Alma Mater—Carmen Ohio

Oh! come let's sing Ohio's praise, And songs to Alma Mater raise; While our hearts rebounding thrill, With joy which death alone can still. Summer's heat or Winter's cold, The seasons pass, the years will roll; Time and change will surely show How firm thy friendship—Ohio.

Excerpts from the commencement ceremony will be broadcast on WOSU-TV, Channel 34, at 5:30 p.m. today.

Damon J. Keith

One of America's most respected jurists, Damon J. Keith has long been a champion of equal justice under the law.

Born in Detroit, Judge Keith was appointed judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the 6th Circuit in 1977. Prior to that, he was a United States District Judge for the Eastern District of Michigan, serving as chief district judge from 1975-77.

Among his most noted opinions are his 1972 ruling in United States vs. Sinclair (also known as the "Keith" decision) in which he ruled that President Richard Nixon and Attorney General John Mitchell were prohibited under the Constitution from wiretapping the residence of a political dissident without obtaining a warrant. In a controversial 1977 affirmative action ruling, he held that the Detroit Police Department could make race-conscious promotions to help remedy present effects of past discrimination.

He received his B.A. degree from West Virginia State University, his J.D. degree from Howard University Law School, and his L.L.M. degree from the Wayne State University School of Law.

Judge Keith's public service includes the presidency of the Detroit Housing Commission from 1958-67, chairmanship of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission from 1964-67, national chairmanship of the Judicial Conference Committee on the Bicentennial of the Constitution, and the chairmanship of the Citizens Council for Michigan Public Universities.

For 21 consecutive years, Judge Keith has been selected as one of the "One Hundred Most Influential Black Americans" by Ebony magazine. His numerous other awards include the NAACP Spingarn Medal, which has also been awarded to Martin Luther King, Jr. and Thurgood Marshall; the Judge of the Year Award from the National Conference of Black Lawyers; the Bill of Rights Award from the Jewish Community Council; the Equal Justice Award from the National Bar Association; and, most recently, the Thurgood Marshall Award from the Wolverine Bar Association.

This year, the Damon J. Keith Law Collection was established at Wayne State University. The first of its kind, the collection brings together the historical accomplishments of African-American lawyers and judges in a central depository of more than 100 years of records, documents, photographs, personal papers, and memorabilia.

It is with great pride that we welcome this distinguished lawyer, judge, and defender of constitutional rights to address Ohio State's graduating class.

Don Kirkham Doctor of Science

As one of the world's leading scientists, Don Kirkham has made significant and lasting contributions in the fields of soil physics and hydrology.

A native of Provo, Utah, Dr. Kirkham earned his B.A., A.M., and Ph.D. degrees in physics from Columbia University. From 1938 to 1940, he was an instructor and assistant professor in math and physics at Utah State University, where he became interested in soil physics research. During World War II, he served as a civilian scientist with the United States Navy and worked on the research physics of antimine warfare.

Following the war, he joined the faculty of Iowa State University. In 1959 he was appointed Curtiss Distinguished Professor of Agriculture. In addition to his teaching duties, he served as director of the Iowa State Water Resources Research Institute from 1964 to 1973.

Dr. Kirkham is a prolific writer and has authored or coauthored more than 230 scientific publications on such disciplines as water resources, physics, soil physics/agronomy, geophysics, hydrogeology, civil engineering, and agricultural engineering. His book, Advanced Soil Physics, coauthored with W. L. Powers in 1972, remains a classic reference throughout the world.

He has had two Fulbright lectureships: one in the Netherlands and one in Belgium, where he also was a Guggenheim Fellow. His extended foreign assignments as a much sought-after lecturer and consultant have included Egypt, Turkey, Argentina, West Germany, the People's Republic of China, and Korea.

Because of his unique contributions to the science of soil physics, hydrology, and fluid transport in porous media, Dr. Kirkham has received numerous prestigious awards including induction as the first member of Ohio State's Drainage Hall of Fame in 1979, the Wolf Foundation Prize for Agricultural Research in 1984, the Iowa Governor's Medal for Science Application in 1986, and the Bouyoucos Soil Science Distinguished Career Award from the Soil Science Society of America in 1989. He holds an honorary doctorate from the Royal Agricultural University in Ghent, Belgium.

It is with great pride that Ohio State honors Professor Don Kirkham for his distinguished career as educator, scholar, and promoter of scientific knowledge.

Howard M. Metzenbaum Doctor of Laws

Now serving his third and final term as United States Senator, Howard Metzenbaum has been called the Senate's principal watchdog for American consumers. Throughout his public service career, Senator Metzenbaum has been a leader in the fight against special interests and government waste.

A 1941 graduate of Ohio State's College of Law, Senator Metzenbaum began his political career in 1942 when he was elected to the Ohio House of Representatives. He served in the House for four years and subsequently was elected to the Ohio Senate for another four years. In 1951, he returned to Cleveland to practice law and run his family business.

In 1974, Senator Metzenbaum was appointed to the U.S. Senate to fill an unexpired term and in 1976 he was elected to his first full six-year term. He was re- elected in 1982 and 1988.

In recent years, Senator Metzenbaum won passage of the first mandatory food labeling legislation in 50 years. He coauthored legislation on older workers' benefits and on pension protection. His legislative interests also have included job safety and child labor protection.

In the 103rd Congress, Senator Metzenbaum is one of only a few senators serving on four major committees — Judiciary, Environment and Public Works, Labor and Human Resources, and the Select Committee on Intelligence. He is chairman of the Subcommittee on Labor and the Subcommittee on Antitrust, Monopolies, and Business Rights.

Among his numerous honors and awards are the Philip Hart Memorial Award, presented by the Consumer Federation of America, for his staunch defense of American consumers against high energy costs and the Lifetime Achievement Award, presented by Citizen Action for his long-standing commitment to consumer issues. The National PTA honored him with their President's Recognition Award for his commitment to children and youth.

Ohio State is proud to recognize the courage and commitment of this dedicated public servant.

Recipient of Honors

Thomas J. Moyer Doctor of Laws

The second youngest person to serve as chief justice of Ohio's Supreme Court, Thomas J. Moyer has a distinguished record of service to the legal profession, the judiciary, and the community.

Born in Sandusky, Ohio, he earned his B.A. degree in political science from Ohio State and his J.D. from Ohio State's College of Law. Following graduation, he entered the private practice of law in Columbus. In 1970, he was elected to membership on the Columbus Board of Education where he served for five years, serving two years as president.

Governor James A. Rhodes named him his executive assistant in 1975 and, in 1979, appointed him judge of the 10th District Court of Appeals. He was elected Ohio's seventh chief justice in 1986 and won reelection in 1992.

Chief Justice Moyer currently serves as chairman of an American Bar Association committee on court-annexed programs for the Section on Dispute Resolution. He has chaired a national multidisciplinary conference on the impact of drug abuse on the state courts and served on a committee of the Institute of Judicial Administration to develop national standards for the adoption of alternative dispute resolution programs by state court systems.

He is a past president of the Columbus Bar Association and has been active in the Ohio State Bar Association. He currently serves on the board of trustees of Franklin University in Columbus. Other board affiliations have included the Consumer Credit Counseling Service of Greater Columbus, the Columbus Area Community Health Center, the Columbus Association for the Performing Arts, and the Columbus Area Council on Alcoholism.

Chief Justice Moyer is a former member of the National Advisory Council of Ohio State's College of Law. He has received honorary degrees from the University of Akron, Defiance College, and Miami University. Praised for his integrity and collegiality, he is the recipient of the American Judicature Society Award for his work to improve the administration of justice in Ohio. In 1991, the Ohio Bar Association presented him with its highest award, the Ohio Bar Medal, for his service to the profession.

Ohio State proudly recognizes this distinguished alumnus, honoring him for devotion to the dignity of the legal profession.

John G. Kramer Distinguished Service Award

Through his dedicated and generous service, John G. Kramer has proved to be an enthusiastic ambassador for his alma mater.

Dr. Kramer received his degree in dental science from Ohio State is 1957 and practices general dentistry in Martins Ferry, Ohio. He received his undergraduate degree from Washington and Jefferson College and has served as a member of their alumni board.

He led the initiative to create an alumni association for the College of Dentistry, serving as its first president and as a member of the association's board of governors. He has also served as chair of the Dentistry Fund and in 1990, he was honored with the College of Dentistry's Most Distinguished Alumni Award.

Dr. Kramer has shared his time and talents with the University Medical Center. Appointed to the University Hospitals Board in 1986, Dr. Kramer chaired the Joint Conference Committee, which oversees the quality of patient care, monitors educational and research activity in the medical center, and oversees physician credentialing, medical staff issues, and compliance with accreditation standards. He was elected chair of the Hospitals Board in 1988 and is the only person to serve three consecutive terms in that position.

Dr. Kramer's University service extends beyond the University Medical Center. He is a member of the Presidents Council of the Presidents Club. He recently served on the University's Managing for the Future Task Force.

Dr. Kramer has given generously of his expertise to hospitals, schools, financial organizations, and other community activities in Ohio, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania. He is also actively involved in dental associations at regional, state, national, and international levels.

For providing a benchmark for service to his university, Ohio State proudly recognizes this distinguished alumnus.

The Academic Costume

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In the light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio Sate University for those receiving doctoral degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the University.

The Gown

Bachelor. Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves. Master. Black, long or short sleeves with a re-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor. Black with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

The Hood

Bachelor. Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master. Three and one-half feet long with a three-inchwide velvet edging.*

Doctor. Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

* Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study:
