Oh! come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.

John Doyle Ong
Doctor of Humanities

John Doyle Ong has been chairman of The BFGoodrich Company since 1979. When he was named to this position, BFGoodrich was primarily a manufacturer of tires, industrial rubber products, and plastics. Over the next two decades, he transformed the faltering company into a profitable, dynamic provider of aircraft systems and services and a producer of specialty chemicals.

Mr. Ong earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in history from Ohio State in 1954 and an LL.B. from Harvard Law School in 1957. He began his BFGoodrich career in 1961 as assistant counsel for the corporation and, over the years, took on increasingly important management responsibilities involving the company's operations worldwide.

He became administrative assistant to the president of International BFGoodrich in 1966, vice president of that division in 1969, and president in 1970. In 1972, he was named group vice president of the corporation and executive vice president and a member of the board of directors the following year. He served as vice chair from 1974-75 before being selected president in 1975.

In addition to his leadership responsibilities at BFGoodrich, Mr. Ong is director of several other major corporations, including Ameritech, ASARCO, Cooper Industries, the Geon Company, The Kroger Company, and TRW. He is also a director of the Chemical Manufacturers Association and serves as a trustee of the University of Chicago, the Musical Arts Association (Cleveland Orchestra), and the John S. and James L. Knight Foundation.

He serves as an honorary member of Ohio State's Humanities Development Council and received the college's first Humanities Alumni Award of Distinction in 1994. He is an advocate for business involvement in civic and cultural activities, both nationally and in northeast Ohio, and holds an honorary doctorate of humane letters from Kent State University.

Mr. Ong also plays a leadership role in a number of key organizations involved with education and the competitiveness of American business. He is a member of the Business Roundtable, chair of the Ohio Business Roundtable, a senior member of the Conference Board, and a member of the Business Council.

Ohio State welcomes this internationally known businessman and champion of the humanities to address today's graduates.

Lawrence R. Barnett Doctor of Fine Arts

Lawrence R. Barnett was one quarter away from his Ohio State graduation when illness forced him to withdraw. More than 50 years later, following a successful career as a corporate executive, he returned to the university, earning his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration in 1988.

The Orrville, Ohio, native attended Hiram College for two years before enrolling at Ohio State in 1933, where he worked his way through school playing the violin and booking bands. After leaving school, he worked first in the talent department of the Columbia Broadcasting System, then at the Music Corporation of America (MCA). He became head of MCA's talent division, handling such bands as Tommy Dorsey and Benny Goodman, and in 1936 became president and director of MCA, a position he held until 1963.

In 1963, he was named chair and president of General Artists Corporation and director of Baldwin-Montrose Chemical Corporation, parent company of General Artists and Chris-Craft Industries. In 1967, he assumed the executive vice presidency of Chris-Craft, retiring in 1988. He remains a director of Chris-Craft. He has also held directorships at Federal Pacific Electric Company, Piper Aircraft Corporation, Warner Communications, and United Television where he also serves as vice-chair.

Mr. Barnett and his wife have long been valued supporters of Ohio State, and Mr. Barnett is serving as co-chair of the university's current five-year national fund-raising campaign. He was instrumental in establishing a master's degree program in arts policy and administration through the College of Arts and the Fisher College of Business. His wife, Isabel, a former stage and television actress, has donated her theater memorabilia to Ohio State's Lawrence and Lee Research Institute.

His philanthropy extends to many causes. He served for eight years as chair and president of Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS) Society of America, receiving the Donald W. Mulder ALS Association Award for Leadership, Dedication, and Achievement in 1993 and its Lifetime Achievement Award in 1995. He is a trustee of the Eisenhower Medical Center and the Annenberg Center for Health Science in Rancho Mirage, California.

Ohio State is proud to honor the determination, skill, and generosity of this distinguished alumnus.

E. Travis York Doctor of Science

Scholar, academician, and scientist, E. Travis York's contributions to international agricultural development span a half century.

A member of the University of Florida faculty since 1963, Dr. York is now that university's Distinguished Service Professor Emeritus and Chancellor Emeritus of the State University System of Florida. He holds B.S. (1942) and M.S. (1946) degrees from Auburn University, and received his doctorate in soil science from Cornell University in 1949.

Following service in the U.S. Army Field Artillery during World War II, Dr. York joined the agronomy faculty at North Carolina State University in 1949, becoming department chair before he was 30. While at NCSU, he fostered the development of a strong soil fertility and plant nutrition research program recognized nationally for its excellence. Respected by colleagues and students alike, he was designated an Outstanding Teacher.

In 1956, he was named eastern director of the American Potash Institute in Washington, D.C. In 1959, he became director of Auburn's Cooperative Extension Service and, in 1961, administrator of the USDA Federal Extension Service. He was recruited by the University of Florida as provost for agriculture, eventually serving as vice president for agricultural affairs, executive vice president and interim president. In 1974, he was named chancellor of the State University System of Florida.

Dr. York has been a major force in securing U.S. support for international agriculture and is a strong advocate for the need to solve soil fertility problems in order to increase food production. He has traveled to more than 80 countries on professional assignments and has been instrumental in internationalizing the agricultural curricula of American universities. Currently he is involved in GREAN, an initiative to solve the problems of hunger, environmental degradation, and poverty in the third world.

He is the recipient of numerous awards and commendations, and has served and chaired the boards of a number of influential regional and international agricultural institutions.

For his extraordinary leadership in international agriculture and higher education, Ohio State proudly recognizes E. Travis York.

Sally Moore Nitschke Distinguished Service Award

During her lifetime, Sally Moore Nitschke served her community and her university in countless ways, beginning with her student days. She attended Vassar College and graduated from Ohio State in 1952 with a Bachelor of Arts summa cum laude in English.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, she retained close ties to her national women's fraternity, Kappa Kappa Gamma, for more than 40 years, serving as a local, regional, and national volunteer. She served as national president of the 115,000-member, Columbus-based fraternity from 1980 to 1984, becoming well-known for her pioneering work in programs for collegiate women on such topics as ethics and values, leadership, personal safety, and self-esteem.

Her energy and enthusiasm for Ohio State were evident in the scope of her service through the years. She was elected to a five-year term on the Alumni Association Board of Directors in 1977, and she served two terms on the Alumni Advisory Council, including a stint as the first woman chair of the council. She was a board member of the Student Loan Foundation, a member of the Distinguished Alumni Teaching Awards Committee, an adviser to the Student-Alumni Council, and was active in planning Ohio State's Women's Day and Day-with-the-Arts.

Ms. Nitschke also served as program director for the Council on Ethics in Economics from 1990 to 1993, overseeing the organization's 1992 International Conference on the Ethics of Business in a Global Economy, which drew participants from 22 nations.

A founding member of the Volunteer Action Center in Columbus and the Worthington Resource Center, Ms. Nitschke also served as president of the Junior League and the Childhood League. She was a member of Buckeye Boy's Ranch and Children's Mental Health Center boards as well as a number of other volunteer boards. As a result of her community service, she was awarded Ohio State's Alumni Citizenship Award in 1976. Her other honors include the 1974 Chi Omega Woman of the Year, the Mayor's Award for Volunteerism in 1980, and Ohio State's Panhellenic/Interfraternity Council Greek Service Award in 1983.

With the untimely death of Ms. Nitschke in 1995, the university and the greater community lost a devoted friend and determined advocate. It is with fond remembrance and gratitude that Ohio State honors her with its Distinguished Service Award.

Arthur I. Vorys Distinguished Service Award

A respected leader in his community and his profession, Arthur I. Vorys is former senior partner and currently of counsel in Columbus's largest law firm, Vorys, Sater, Seymour and Pease.

A Columbus native, Mr. Vorys served as a lieutenant in the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve during World War II and was wounded in the Battle of Okinawa. He earned his B.A. at Williams College in 1945 and an LL.B. degree in 1949 and a J.D. degree in 1971 from Ohio State. Admitted to the Ohio Bar in 1949, he entered the private practice of law with Vorys, Sater, Seymour and Pease, a law firm founded by his grandfather. With the exception of a two-year stint as superintendent of insurance for the State of Ohio in 1957-59, he has remained in private practice.

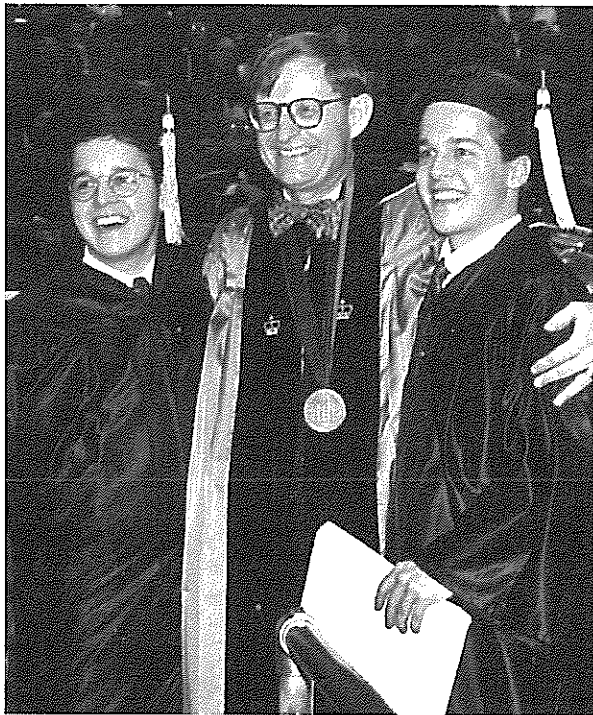

A dedicated alumnus of the university, Mr. Vorys played a leadership role in cementing the relationship between the Ohio State College of Medicine's Department of Pediatrics and Columbus's Children's Hospital, where he served as board president from 1978-82. The affiliation of the two organizations has led to one of the outstanding pediatric programs in the country.

Mr. Vorys was named to the University Hospitals Board at its inception and worked tirelessly to recruit volunteers to support the Medical Center's continuing development. He is a past president of the Hospitals board. He has further served Ohio State as a member and past president of the Griffith Foundation for Insurance Education, and as a member of the advisory committee to the Department of Physics. He continued a family tradition of support to the College of Law, leading the efforts to raise funds for the college's new wing during its Centennial Campaign.

Mr. Vorys is an esteemed business leader, having served on the boards of numerous corporations, including Butler Insurance Company, North American National Corporation, Ohio Casualty Corporation, Ohio Life Insurance Company, Shelby Insurance Group, Vorys Brothers Inc., and Wendy's International. He is a fellow of the Columbus Bar Association Foundation, the Ohio State Bar Foundation, and a member of the International Insurance Society. He has also served as a trustee for Capital University.

Ohio State proudly recognizes the countless contributions of time and talent of this renowned lawyer and civic leader.

A Message From President Gee

Most of us measure our lives in year-long cycles, beginning in January and ending in December. But those of us in education observe a different calendar—one in which the year-end celebration is a graduation, and the days are counted in quarters or semesters.

For college students, the cycle begins that first autumn when they arrive on campus and advances through classes and exams, vacations and summer jobs, until commencement day finally arrives. And that day comes once each quarter when students from Ohio State graduate to the cheers of proud relatives and friends.

Now, these newly minted alumni will look back briefly and move on, shifting into the day-to-day rhythms of hoped-for employment. They will leave behind late nights filled with cold pizza and hot debate. No more 7:30 in the morning classes, but instead a 7:30 commute to the office. No more papers due for class, but reports due for work. They will trade their backpacks for briefcases, their ball caps for business suits.

There is no doubt that they have been changed by their college experience. Those years spent at a major research university represent not only a growth in knowledge, but a growth in wisdom and common sense—a maturing process that prepares a student for life in the “real world.” And that world does not stand still.

We need only look at the capitals of the world and the corporations of America to realize that powerful forces have been at work. During the time it has taken this most recent crop of graduates to complete their educations, the Soviet Union has come apart, Germany has come together, ethnic warfare has erupted, trade barriers have fallen, and once-mighty businesses have been brought to their knees by economic forces.

Today’s graduates are being launched into a world made smaller by the media and larger by the scope of our global dilemmas: the environment, ethics, illiteracy, racism, sexism, revolution, protest, famine, and poverty.

The world is crying for the compassion and creativity of our graduates. And we need their considerable energy and ingenuity to resolve conflicts, regain civility, and restore our spirits.

That is why, for all of us, graduation is a time that renews our hope in the future. As I preside over Ohio State’s commencement, I am impressed by the intelligence, dedication, and vigor of our new college graduates, young and not so young. And I feel an old, familiar feeling: optimism. Optimism about the actions our industries are taking to regain a competitive edge. Optimism about the adjustments education is making in response to a changing society. And, most of all, optimism about and faith in this new generation that is about to take its place in our society.

Today, as many of them leave school behind, their memories are bittersweet. One of Ohio State’s engineering graduates sent me a letter that, I believe, captures the great joy we share in this special rite of passage and the strength of the educational process. She wrote, “There will be at least one chemical engineer with a tear in her eye as the national anthem is played, a lump in her throat as her college is introduced, a smile on her face as she gets her diploma, and a cry of joy as her father hugs her and says, ‘I am so proud of you!’”

It is a pride in which we can all share. I thank this graduate, and thousands like her, for all they will bring to our society. They are very bright. They work very hard. They have learned to live without security, but they continue to seek it. They are ready not only to cope with change, but to create change. And they have turned away from “me-ism” and are again seeking ways to help their fellow human beings.

I am confident that when this generation assumes leadership, America will be in very good hands.

Congratulations and Welcome to the Alumni Association

Congratulations on receiving your degree. You may not notice the difference, but today, along with hundreds of your colleagues, you have joined the ranks of Ohio State alumni. For you, one era has passed, and another is about to begin.

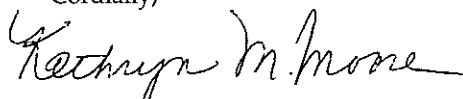

You are a member of the Buckeye family and partner in the enterprise, carrying the reputation of Ohio State through your activities and accomplishments. You exemplify the fruits of a good education: a critical mind, a discerning spirit, higher values, a sense of commitment, and the privilege of service.

You can assist the university in many ways. You can recruit new and highly qualified students. You can represent Ohio State well through personal and occupational achievements. You can participate financially through the Development Fund. And you can work in an advisory capacity with the university to improve it and its programs to better prepare today's students for tomorrow's citizenship.

We extend to you a year's complimentary membership in the Alumni Association. Included is a year's subscription to the Ohio State Alumni Magazine, which will keep you informed of the university's continuing pursuit of excellence and help you keep in touch with your friends and classmates.

To you, your family, friends, and those others who helped you arrive here today go our best wishes. You are joining a great family of Ohio State alumni working together to make a difference around the world.

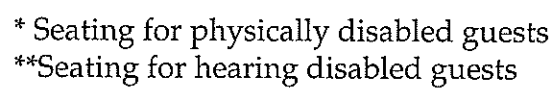

Cordially,

Kathryn M. Moore

This program is not an official graduation list

While every effort is made to ensure accuracy in this commencement program, printing deadlines sometimes prevent inclusion of graduates' names, or may result in use of names of persons not completing graduation requirements. This printed program, therefore, should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of The University Registrar, 202 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43210.

The Academic Costume

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In the light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the university.

The Gown

Bachelor. Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master. Black, long or short sleeves with a re-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor. Black with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

The Hood

Bachelor. Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master. Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Doctor. Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

* Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study:

Dentistry	Lilac
Law	Purple
Medicine	Green
Musical Arts	Pink
Optometry	Sea-foam Green
Pharmacy	Olive Green
Philosophy	Dark Blue
Veterinary Medicine	Gray

Cap and Tassel

Candidates for degrees at The Ohio State University wear the black mortarboard with a tassel whose color is distinctive of the degree being received. The tassel colors are as follows:

Graduate School	Black
Colleges of the Arts and Sciences
College of the Arts (B.A., B.S.I.D.)	White
(Others)	Brown
School of Music (B.A.)	White
(Others)	Pink
College of Biological Sciences	White
College of Humanities	White
College of Mathematical and Physical Sciences	White
College of Social and Behavioral Sciences	White
School of Journalism	Crimson
Max M. Fisher College of Business	Drab
School of Public Policy and Management	Peacock Blue
College of Dentistry	Lilac
College of Education	Light Blue
School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation	Sage Green
College of Engineering	Orange
Austin E. Knowlton School of Architecture	Blue-Violet
College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences	Maize
School of Natural Resources	Blue-Green
College of Human Ecology	Maroon
College of Law	Purple
College of Medicine	Green
School of Allied Medical Professions	Green
College of Nursing	Apricot
College of Optometry	Seafoam Green
College of Pharmacy	Olive Green
College of Social Work	Citron
College of Veterinary Medicine	Gray

The gold tassel is worn frequently by those holding the doctoral degree and by college and university administrative officers.
