POMP, CIRCUMSTANCE, AND OTHER SONGS OF A LIFETIME

—by Professor David Citino, 1947-2005, Late University Poet Laureate (Originally presented as the 2000 Winter Commencement address)

If you're like me, you've got a big head,
not to mention a funny robe, full of music—
poems and melodies, the tunes
we move to, shower and shave by,
study, write to. Not just the incidental,

but the momentous music keeping time.
Our histories are measures of song.
Listen to your heart: drums of Africa,
sea-spume of blind, far-sighted Homer, Sappho's honeyed love lyrics. Often,

music speaks for us, one note saying a thousand words. Like Rodolpho in Puccini's La Boheme, Sono un poeta.
I am a poet. Che cosa faccio? What do I do? Scrivo. I write. This ceremony is loud music—pomp and circumstance of the life you began freshman year or that first day of graduate school.

In my head I press Play, and the CD
of Big Days kicks on. I leap and linger

over moments too sweet, nearly, for words.
I'll never escape rhymes from the nursery.
*Up above the world so high, like a diamond
in the sky*. We knew from the start our universe was aglow with wonder.

Italian, Latin; English songs in nasal accents
of Cleveland. Gaudeamus igitur, Juvenes dum sumus. So, let us rejoice, while we are young. Youth is that gift we can't comprehend while we're young. This ceremony means you all are less young than you were.

Don't let the heavy knowledge gained from your studies deprive you of the gifts of youth, to be able to rejoice at the drop of a hat, to care for, be moved by others.

Now I hear golden hits of five decades.
Big Mama Thornton, and that so-called King
(King of what, fried butter sandwiches?)
who stole away her hound dog. You ain't never killed a rabbit, you ain't no friend of mine. As with those profs and TAs, course after course, you had to produce—

kill some rabbits—to earn respect.
And at times OSU may have seemed like Heartbreak Hotel, down at the end of Lonely Street, so difficult was it to do your best. Tennessee Ernie Ford,

"Sixteen Tons": St. Peter don't you call me 'Cause I can't go. I owe my soul to the company store.

You have been digging deep in mines of knowledge. We all owe our souls to Ohio State, company store of learning, shared experience—precious ore
we have in common forever.

Now I hear Domenico Modugno's
fervent urging to wish, sing, fly, Volare, Wo-o-o. Cantare, Wo-o-o-o.
My grandfather was a peasant farmer,
a contadino in Calabria in the toe of Italy. He knew it's the human lot to dream of flying. *Lucky, lucky,

lucky me, I'm a lucky son-of-a-gun.*
*I work eight hours, I sleep eight hours,
That leaves eight hours for fun*.

Hey! He sailed in steerage across the Atlantic, came to Cleveland, where he stayed long enough to work 52 years for the B&O Railroad, before lying down to rest in good Ohio soil. So many of us here today came from elsewhere,

or ancestors did. From Tennessee, Italy, Africa, Asia, Appalachia—even,
President Kirwan, the wilds of Kentucky and Maryland. Women and men with backs supple as birch trunks. The courage it took to pick up stakes and begin again in a new world! Think of the work those older ones did. For you. You all are facing a change right now.

This sheepskin is your passport.
You're bound for emigration to the next song of your life. Ohio State is the ark on which you've been sailing.
You've been the precious cargo.

But, as Noah once said, I can see clearly now the rain is gone. The ark, our university, was filled to overflowing
with the diversity of us. Diversity.
Networks and talk shows devalue the word.

I say, rather, the richness of us,
precious difference, the grand multiplicity
of selves that balance this globe and enable it to spin true. Grandson of peasant immigrants, I was given the opportunity to earn a doctorate in English literature from Ohio State—because my family labored long nights

around the kitchen table trying to learn this arduous English. I sat where you're sitting twenty-six years ago.

Bob Dylan and Smokey Robinson got me
through. Yes, it took a prophet and Miracles!
My son earned an OSU Ph.D. in history.
Now you, graduates, are being honored—

by degrees. We've all come together around the kitchen table of Ohio State.
Ohio, Round on the ends and high in the middle. For the years to come we'll sing together, Beautiful Ohio,

in dreams again I see, Visions of what used to be. These psalms, sacred thoughts of our tribes, 78's and 33's, tapes, CD's—they take up space in shelves of our skulls, our hearts. They remind us

we want a song beyond the run-of-the-mill thrill, the moment throbbing
with pleasure or bathed in the blues.
We ache for something grander than pure selfishness. Songs sung for one alone are not true music. Arias shared are music of the spheres, ways of saying to another something from the soul.

Of course the Buckeye Battle Cry
is there. Drive, drive on down the field,

Men (and women!) of the Scarlet and Gray. Well, you drove on down the field, and you drove up and down the streets, around and around crowded lots, looking for a place to park,

and you searched our dark, ancient library
for a decent place to study. My wife, Mary's, father marched in the first
"Script Ohio," in 1936. He's here today with us, blowing his horn, I can't help

but feel, as is the sweet mother
I lost last year, the one who gave me the stars. Today's music makes us think of the debts we owe, and never can repay.
So many of us would not be here

were it not for the lullabies and songs of dear parents, their parents, theirs.
Some are here today in the flesh.
Many are not. We mourn them with cadences of our hearts. Think how many people sang before us, gave us a name, a voice, taught us the right words. We must cherish them by remembering every song.

When we sing to others, we honor
our fathers and mothers, thank them

for this day of profound scarlet and gray pomp and circumstance. O, come let's sing Ohio's praise, And songs to Alma Mater raise. Alma mater.
Ohio State is our sweet, nurturing mother.

We came of age here, with her help.
*Well, Mother, we love you, but, like,
it's time we moved out, got a place of our own. You're standing there, Mom, gray hair, eyes scarlet* from crying. We won't forget you.

Now, even though this ceremony
means we're being weaned, taken off the nipple, let's take care to cherish her all our days. Let's remember the words to the songs she taught us, and pass them on. We'll remember always, Graduation Day. *Summer's heat,

and winter's cold, The seasons pass,
the years will roll, Time and change*

will surely show How firm thy friendship, O-hi-O. We call that little number Carmen Ohio. Carmen means song in Latin. You've worked hard; she is your reward; today is your reward.

You're filled to overflowing with the notes, the poems we've written together. You know the score.
Continue to work hard for yourselves,
and one another. Find the ones who need you to sing to, for them, in the world.

Graduates, this joyful litany, this hymn
our ancestors collaborated on with us,
the calling of your name today is music to our ears. Sing that name proudly

all your days, as if your life depended on it. It does, you know. It has been an honor for me to speak—and sing—
to you today. Thank you, graduates, and, again, Congratulations.

Oh! Come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.

President Gee looks forward to personally congratulating graduates in French Field House immediately following the ceremony.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Brian Daniel Joseph

Brian D. Joseph is Distinguished University Professor of Linguistics and the Kenneth E. Naylor Professor of South Slavic Linguistics at The Ohio State University. He is one of the world's leading specialists in historical linguistics—the study of how languages change and develop through time.

Professor Joseph earned his bachelor's degree at Yale University and his master's and doctoral degrees at Harvard University before joining the Ohio State faculty in 1979. As chair of the Department of Linguistics from 1987 to 1997, he is credited with helping to develop the department into one of the best in the country. He was named a Distinguished University Professor—the university's highest faculty honor—in 2003.

Much of his research has focused on the Greek language, from its earliest appearance about 1500 B.C. to the present—a span of some 3,500 years. He has also examined close relatives of Greek such as Latin, Sanskrit, and Albanian. His study of Albanian ties in with another area of his expertise, Balkan linguistics. He has taught at all levels, from freshman classes through doctoral seminars covering a variety of topics in the Department of Linguistics and, since 1997, in the Department of Slavic and East European Languages and Literatures. He has also been a visiting professor at several other institutions, including the Netherlands Graduate School in Linguistics; the University of North Carolina/Duke University Slavic and East European Language Resource Center; Michigan State University; the University of Canterbury, New Zealand; and the University of the Aegean, Rhodes, Greece.

Professor Joseph is editor of Language, the official journal of the Linguistic Society of America. He has given some 200 presentations at scholarly meetings, symposia, and conferences throughout the world; authored or coauthored five books; edited or co-edited 17 books and special issues of journals; and written or co-written more than 180 articles, book chapters, and notes. In addition, he has served on numerous committees at the departmental, college, university, national, and international professional levels.

He was named a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in 2006 and a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in 2004. In 2003, Ohio magazine recognized him as one of Ohio's Top 100 Educators in Higher Education with its Excellence in Education Award. He is the recipient of Ohio State's Faculty Award for Distinguished University Service, the University Distinguished Scholar Award, the College of Humanities Exemplary Faculty Award, and the Alumni Distinguished Teaching Award.

Wolfgang Ketterle

Doctor of Science

Wolfgang Ketterle has been the John D. MacArthur Professor of Physics at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology since 1998. He leads a research group exploring the properties of ultracold gases.

A native of Germany, Professor Ketterle received a diploma (equivalent to a master's degree) from the Technical University of Munich in 1982 and a PhD in physics from the University of Munich in 1986. He did postdoctoral work at the Max Planck Institute for Quantum Optics in Garching, Germany, and at the University of Heidelberg in molecular spectroscopy and combustion diagnostics. In 1990, he went to MIT as a postdoctoral research associate and joined the physics faculty in 1993.

His research is in the field of atomic physics and laser spectroscopy and includes laser cooling and trapping, atom optics and atom interferometry, and studies of Bose-Einstein condensation and Fermi degeneracy. A major focus is the exploration of new forms of matter, in particular, novel aspects of superfluidity, coherence, and correlations in many-body systems. His observation of Bose-Einstein condensation in a gas in 1995 and the first realization of an atom laser in 1997 were recognized with the 2001 Nobel Prize in Physics, together with E.A. Cornell and C.E. Wieman.

Professor Ketterle is a fellow of the American Physical Society, the Optical Society of America, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and the Institute of Physics. He is a member of the German Physical Society, the European Academy of Sciences and Arts, the Academy of Sciences in Heidelberg, the Bavarian Academy of Sciences, and the German Academy of Natural Scientists Leopoldina, and he is a foreign associate of the National Academy of Sciences.

In addition to the Nobel Prize, his honors include a David and Lucile Packard Fellowship, the Rabi Prize of the American Physical Society, the Gustav-Hertz Prize of the German Physical Society, the Fritz London Prize in Low-Temperature Physics, the Benjamin Franklin Medal in Physics, and the MIT Killian Award.

John M. Opitz

Doctor of Science

John M. Opitz is professor of pediatrics, pathology, human genetics, and obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Utah Health Sciences Center in Salt Lake City.

A native of Germany, Dr. Opitz received his undergraduate and medical degrees from the University of Iowa, followed by specialty training in pediatrics and medical genetics at Iowa and the University of Wisconsin, where he began his intensive studies in developmental genetics and the pathology of congenital malformations.

His distinguished career as a physician-scientist spans nearly a half-century. Following training, he first served as a member of the Department of Medical Genetics and Pediatrics at the University of Wisconsin, where he directed the Wisconsin Clinical Genetics Center. He moved to Montana in 1979 to serve as chair of the Department of Medical Genetics at Shodair

Children's Hospital and director of the Montana Medical Genetics Program. He also served as an adjunct professor at Montana State University. In 1994 he was named University Professor of Medical Humanities in Montana State's Department of History and Philosophy. He joined Utah's faculty in 1997.

His research interests include sex determination, development of the genital system and its associate malformations, embryology and genetics of growth and skeletal abnormalities, and multiple congenital syndromes associated with mental retardation. He has provided a unifying concept linking human evolution, genetics, and development, and he has described a large number of human developmental abnormalities, several of which are named for him.

Dr. Opitz has published more than 500 papers and has written or edited 15 books.

He is the founder and editor-in-chief emeritus of the American Journal of Medical Genetics. He has twice served as a visiting professor to Nationwide Children's Hospital in Columbus and is frequently invited as a distinguished lecturer worldwide.

His many honors include the 1996 Humboldt Prize, the March of Dimes Colonel Harlan Sanders Lifetime Achievement Award for work in the field of genetic science, the Medal of Honor of the German Society for Human Genetics, and election as a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He is an honorary member of the Society of Pediatric Pathology and a number of international medical genetics societies, including those of Japan, Russia, South Africa, and Israel. He is also a member of the German Academy of Sciences Leopoldina.

RECIPIENTS OF HONORS

Herb Asher

Distinguished Service Award

Herb Asher is professor emeritus of political science at The Ohio State University and counselor to the university president, a position he has held during five university administrations beginning with that of Edward Jennings.

A nationally known political analyst and expert on voting behavior, Professor Asher is respected by students, teachers, scholars, and politicians of all affiliations.

He holds a bachelor of science cum laude in mathematics from Bucknell University and a master's and doctorate in political science from the University of Michigan. He joined Ohio State's faculty in 1970 as an assistant professor in the Department of Political Science, becoming a full professor in 1979.

During his 25-year tenure on the regular faculty, he served as the university's chief liaison with state and local government, as well as faculty advisor to several student organizations.

Following his 1995 retirement, Professor Asher remained very involved with the university on many levels, continuing to serve as counselor to the president. At President William E. Kirwan's request, he undertook the development of the John Glenn Institute for Public Service and Public Policy, serving as its founding director from 1998 to 2000. The Glenn Institute has since grown into the nationally respected John Glenn School of Public Affairs. Professor Asher continues to teach several political science courses each year, including the popular Campaign Politics course in which students participate in an actual political campaign of their choice.

He also continues to serve as faculty advisor to the Undergraduate Student Government, the College Democrats, and two fraternities. He is a member of the executive committee and board of trustees of Hillel and a past president of The Ohio State University Faculty Club.

Among the numerous books and articles he has authored or coauthored are Polling and the Public: What Every Citizen Should Know (2007); Presidential Elections and American Politics (1992); and "The Media and the 1996 Campaign" in Re-election 1996: How Americans Voted (1998).

Professor Asher is a former member and chair of the Ohio Ethics Commission and a former member of the board of trustees of the Columbus Metropolitan Club. He currently serves on the Mid-Ohio Regional Planning Commission as well as on the board of trustees for Community Research Partners.

W. Rodney Sharp

Distinguished Service Award

With a background in biotechnology, business, and technology transfer, W. Rodney Sharp currently serves as an advisor and consultant to the Rutgers University School of Environmental and Biological Sciences and the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, where he was formerly dean of research and director of research.

After earning his bachelor and master's degrees from the University of Akron and his PhD in plant cell biology from Rutgers, Dr. Sharp joined the faculty of The Ohio State University in 1969 as an assistant professor in the College of Biological Sciences, becoming a full professor in 1978. In 1979, he left the university to become director of Pioneer Research at the Campbell Institute for Research and Technology. He went on to become founder and/or director of several successful biotechnology companies, including DNA Plant Technology, Agri-Diagnostics, DNA Pharmaceuticals, ESCAgenetics/PHYTOpharmaceuticals, and Wellgen.

He continued to maintain close ties with Ohio State, serving as a non-salaried adjunct professor and sharing his experience and expertise with students in the Department of Microbiology. He has long fostered an entrepreneurial spirit among Ohio State's faculty and has promoted and facilitated several global partnerships, notably with the University of Sao Paulo in Brazil and Cairo University in Egypt. In 1999, he established the Rod Sharp Professorship in Microbiology at Ohio State, and he has visited the university frequently to give research seminars, to participate in symposia, and to provide counsel to students, faculty, administrators, and alumni.

Dr. Sharp is a member of Ohio State's Colleges of the Arts and Sciences Advisory Committee and a member of the Jennings Hall Leadership Committee for the College of Biological Sciences. He holds the title of Eminent Professor at the University of Sao Paulo and received that university's Luiz Queiroz Distinguished Service Medal. In addition, the University of Sao Paulo honored him by naming the William "Rod" Sharp Biotechnology Conference Facility for him.

Dr. Sharp has authored more than 70 original research papers, abstracts, and books in the field of plant cell biology, including the five-volume Handbook of Plant Cell Culture.

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY CLASS GIFT

For more than a century, graduating seniors have joined together to bestow a Class Gift upon the university. This tradition began in 1891 when a group of students planted five elm trees on the Oval the evening before graduation.

Since then, Class Gifts have touched the lives of hundreds of thousands of Ohio State students, alumni, and friends. From the Orton Hall chimes to “The Long Walk” on the Oval, Class Gifts have shaped our campus experience, helping to create the Ohio State we all know and cherish today.

Class Gifts are also shaping the Ohio State of tomorrow. The 2007 Class Gift is continuing this rich tradition. As the Class of 2007 collectively prepares to cross the stage as students and leave as graduates, they are leaving a legacy that will celebrate this special day and benefit future generations of Ohio State students for years to come.

They are leaving an indelible mark on the university—literally. Across campus, the new Ohio Union is being built. The 2007 Class Gift is a 16-foot university seal that will be embedded in the floor of the Great Hall in the new Ohio Union.

Continuing in the tradition of the first Ohio Union, the new Ohio Union will open in 2010 and serve as a hub for students to gather, participate in activities, and be part of a community. It will also be a place where alumni and friends can return to reminisce about their campus experience. The beautiful seal will serve as a focal point, reminding past, present, and future Buckeyes of the Class of 2007’s generosity.

As we continue to build on the past to build for the future, graduates who wish to make their 2007 Class Gift of $20.07 may do so online at studentcampaign.osu.edu.

The university congratulates the Class of 2007 and thanks them for making a difference at Ohio State!

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT GEE

Today marks your official launch. My expectations for you are boundless, just as they are for Ohio State. After all, you are now a graduate of one of the finest universities in the world. I hope that makes you feel both proud and somewhat pressured.

You might start by asking yourself two questions, as most new graduates who are contemplating a move will do: What should I keep? What should I give away? Although I am no longer young enough to know everything, I do know enough to offer this advice. Some things to keep: An open mind, as challenged by your professors. The memory of Orton Hall's chimes, because that is tradition. The sound of jackhammers at the Ohio Union and Thompson Library, because that is progress. Keep close the friend you made during orientation, when you were both excited and overwhelmed. Lock the best of this place in your heart and stow it away for the times you will need sustenance. Set out tomorrow morning, pick up just the right wind, and launch the next phase of your life.

You will have to jettison some things. Keep away from people who diminish your dreams, who deride your ambitions. Give up your doubts, and that little voice inside your head that says, "You can't." Ohio State says you can.

Even as you may struggle to make ends meet, you have so much to give away. Give your time and talent to a cause you believe in. Give your hope to make a better world, because you come from a great public university that believes in doing the world's good. Give your courage when it is not convenient, your integrity now that it is most needed, your honesty in all things large and small. Give your compassion, because the world often seems to be running short. Give it your best shot, every day.

Like me, you will look to Ohio State as a harbor of high aspirations. When you tell people that you are an Ohio State graduate, you will be telling them our story, singing our song. You will represent the great promise of this land-grant institution to make a difference in others' lives. You will know, firsthand, that Ohio State changes lives.

Go where your calling takes you, along a route that might meander. Go beyond the routine, the expected, and the easy. Like this university, you are capable of greatness. As you prepare to cast off, I hope that Ohio State has lived up to all your expectations. Now it is your turn to live up to ours. And send me a postcard every now and then to let me know how you are doing.

O-H!

CONGRATULATIONS AND WELCOME TO THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

On behalf of The Ohio State University Alumni Association, we congratulate you on your academic achievement! For you, one era has passed and another is about to begin. In receiving your degree today, you are joining a distinguished body of more than 440,000 Ohio State alumni who are making a difference in all parts of the world.

Your university has provided you with a well-rounded education that will help you become the leaders of tomorrow. We encourage you to build on your many accomplishments by doing something great: pay forward to your communities and make a difference in the lives of others.

We want you always to be passionate about your alma mater and continue to stay connected virtually: ohiostatealumni.org, and through membership in The Ohio State University Alumni Association. We want to be your gateway in connecting with Ohio State. Therefore, your first year of membership is complimentary and includes many benefits, such as a subscription to Ohio State Alumni Magazine, which will help you stay informed about the university's ambitious agenda and connected with friends and classmates. In addition, the Alumni Association offers many educational programs for its members and networking opportunities, including alumni clubs in every state and in many countries around the world, and alumni societies connected with your colleges.

We celebrate you today and wholeheartedly share in your enthusiasm and all that you have achieved. Your success is driving Ohio State's move from excellence to eminence, and we will continue to count on you to carry on the university's rich and vibrant tradition and reputation. Again, congratulations to you, your family, friends, and all who have helped you reach this milestone in your life as you receive your diploma from The Ohio State University.

Sincerely,

This program is not an official graduation list.

This printed program lists students who were eligible to graduate for Autumn Quarter 2007, as of 5:00 p.m., November 30, 2007, pending the outcome of final examinations and final grades. Therefore, it should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of the University Registrar, 320 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43210.

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University commencement derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—

a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral and master's degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the university.

The Gown

Bachelor: The bachelor gown is black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master: The master gown is black, long or short sleeves, with an arc-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor: The Ohio State University Doctor of Philosophy gown is scarlet with gray velvet panels on the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Other doctor gowns are black with velvet panels and bars, the color of which is distinctive of the field of study.

Honors Emblem

The Ohio State University honors emblem is a scarlet and gray tasseled braid worn over the gown. Students eligible for this curricular honor are those graduating summa cum laude, magna cum laude, cum laude, with distinction, and with honors.

The Hood

Bachelor: Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master: Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.

Doctor: Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study.

Cap and Tassel

Candidates for degrees at The Ohio State University wear the black mortarboard with a tassel whose color is distinctive of the degree being received. The tassel colors are as follows:

Graduate School (PhD)	Gray
(Others).....	Black
Colleges of the Arts and Sciences	White
College of the Arts (BA, BSID)	White
(Others).....	Brown
School of Music (BA)	White
(Others).....	Pink
College of Biological Sciences.....	White

School of Allied Medical Professions	Green
College of Nursing	Apricot
College of Optometry	Seafoam Green
College of Pharmacy.....	Olive Green
College of Public Health	Salmon
College of Social Work.....	Citron
