Autumn
Commencement 2010

OHIO STATE

Oh! Come let's sing Ohio's praise,

And songs to Alma Mater raise;

While our hearts rebounding thrill,

With joy which death alone can still,

Summer's heat or Winter's cold,

The seasons pass, the years will roll;

Time and change will surely show

How firm thy friendship—Ohio.

POMP, CIRCUMSTANCE, AND OTHER SONGS OF A LIFETIME

—by Professor David Gitino, 1947-2005, Late University Poet Laureate (Originally presented as the 2000 Winter Commencement address)

If you're like me, you've got a big head,
not to mention a funny robe, full of music—
poems and melodies, the tunes
we move to, shower and shave by,
study, write to. Not just the incidental,

but the momentous music keeping time.
Our histories are measures of song.
Listen to your heart: drums of Africa,
sea-spume of blind, far-sighted Homer, Sappho's honeyed love lyrics. Often,

music speaks for us, one note saying a thousand words. Like Rodolpho in Puccini's La Bohème, Sono un poeta.
I am a poet. Che cosa faccio? What do I do? Scrivo. I write. This ceremony

is loud music—pomp and circumstance of the life you began freshman year or that first day of graduate school.
In my head I press Play, and the CD
of Big Days kicks on. I leap and linger

over moments too sweet, nearly, for words.
I'll never escape rhymes from the nursery.
*Up above the world so high, like a diamond
in the sky*. We knew from the start our universe was aglow with wonder.

Italian, Latin, English songs in nasal accents
of Cleveland. Gaudeamus igitur, Juvenes dum sumus. So, let us rejoice, while we are young. Youth is that gift we can't comprehend while we're young. This ceremony

means you all are less young than you were.
Don't let the heavy knowledge gained from your studies deprive you of the gifts of youth, to be able to rejoice at the drop of a hat, to care for, be moved by others.

Now I hear golden hits of five decades.
Big Mama Thornton, and that so-called King
(King of what, fried butter sandwiches?)
who stole away her hound dog. You ain't never killed a rabbit, you ain't no friend of mine. As with those profs and TAs, course after course, you had to produce—

kill some rabbits—to earn respect.
And at times OSU may have seemed like Heartbreak Hotel, down at the end of Lonely Street, so difficult was it to do your best. Tennessee Ernie Ford,

"Sixteen Tons": St. Peter don't you call me 'Cause I can't go. I owe my soul to the company store.

You have been digging deep in mines of knowledge. We all owe our souls to Ohio State, company store of learning, shared experience—precious ore
we have in common forever.

Now I hear Domenico Modugno's
fervent urging to wish, sing, fly, Volare, Wo-oo. Cantare, Wo-o-o-o.
My grandfather was a peasant farmer,
a contadino in Calabria in the toe of Italy. He knew it's the human lot to dream of flying. *Lucky, lucky,

lucky me, I'm a lucky son-of-a-gun*.
*I work eight hours, I sleep eight hours,
That leaves eight hours for fun*.

Hey! He sailed in steerage across the Atlantic, came to Cleveland, where he stayed long enough to work 52 years for the B&O Railroad, before lying down to rest in good Ohio soil. So many of us here today came from elsewhere,

or ancestors did. From Tennessee, Italy, Africa, Asia, Appalachia—even,
President Kirwan, the wilds of Kentucky and Maryland. Women and men with backs supple as birch trunks. The courage it took to pick up stakes and begin again in a new world! Think of the work those older ones did. For you. You all are facing a change right now.

This sheepskin is your passport.
You're bound for emigration to the next song of your life. Ohio State is the ark on which you've been sailing.
You've been the precious cargo.

But, as Noah once said, I can see clearly now the rain is gone. The ark, our university, was filled to overflowing
with the diversity of us. Diversity.
Networks and talk shows devalue the word.

I say, rather, the richness of us,
precious difference, the grand multiplicity
of selves that balance this globe and enable it to spin true. Grandson of peasant immigrants, I was given the opportunity to earn a doctorate in English literature from Ohio State—because my family labored long nights

around the kitchen table trying to learn this arduous English. I sat where you're sitting twenty-six years ago.

Bob Dylan and Smokey Robinson got me
through. Yes, it took a prophet and Miracles!
My son earned an OSU Ph.D. in history.
Now you, graduates, are being honored—

by degrees. We've all come together around the kitchen table of Ohio State.
Ohio, Round on the ends and high in the middle. For the years to come we'll sing together, Beautiful Ohio,

in dreams again I see, Visions of what used to be. These psalms, sacred thoughts of our tribes, 78's and 33's, tapes, CD's—they take up space in shelves of our skulls, our hearts. They remind us

we want a song beyond the run-of-the-mill thrill, the moment throbbing
with pleasure or bathed in the blues.
We ache for something grander than pure selfishness. Songs sung for one alone are not true music. Arias shared are music of the spheres, ways of saying to another something from the soul.

Of course the Buckeye Battle Cry
is there. Drive, drive on down the field,

Men (and women!) of the Scarlet and Gray. Well, you drove on down the field, and you drove up and down the streets, around and around crowded lots, looking for a place to park,

and you searched our dark, ancient library
for a decent place to study. My wife, Mary's, father marched in the first
"Script Ohio," in 1936. He's here today with us, blowing his horn, I can't help

but feel, as is the sweet mother
I lost last year, the one who gave me the stars. Today's music makes us think of the debts we owe, and never can repay.
So many of us would not be here

were it not for the lullabies and songs of dear parents, their parents, theirs.
Some are here today in the flesh.
Many are not. We mourn them with cadences of our hearts. Think how many people sang before us, gave us a name, a voice, taught us the right words. We must cherish them by remembering every song.

When we sing to others, we honor
our fathers and mothers, thank them

for this day of profound scarlet and gray pomp and circumstance. *O, come let's sing Ohio's praise, And songs
to Alma Mater raise*. Alma mater,
Ohio State is our sweet, nurturing mother.

We came of age here, with her help.
*Well, Mother, we love you, but, like,
it's time we moved out, got a place of our own. You're standing there, Mom, gray hair, eyes scarlet* from crying. We won't forget you.

Now, even though this ceremony
means we're being weaned, taken off the nipple, let's take care to cherish her all our days. Let's remember the words to the songs she taught us, and pass them on. We'll remember always, Graduation Day, *Summer's heat,

and winter's cold, The seasons pass,
the years will roll, Time and change*

will surely show How firm thy friendship, O-hi-O. We call that little number Carmen Ohio. Carmen means song in Latin. You've worked hard; she is your reward; today is your reward.

You're filled to overflowing with the notes, the poems we've written together. You know the score.
Continue to work hard for yourselves,
and one another. Find the ones who need you to sing to, for them, in the world.

Graduates, this joyful litany, this hymn
our ancestors collaborated on with us,
the calling of your name today is music to our ears. Sing that name proudly

all your days, as if your life depended on it. It does, you know. It has been an honor for me to speak—and sing—
to you today. Thank you, graduates, and, again, Congratulations.

Recessional

Excerpts from the commencement ceremony will be broadcast on WOSU-TV, Channel 34, on December 13 at 5:30 p.m.

President Gee looks forward to personally congratulating graduates on the stage immediately following the ceremony.

David L. Tomasko

David L. Tomasko, professor in the William G. Lowrie Department of Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering, is associate dean for undergraduate education and student services in The Ohio State University College of Engineering.

As associate dean, he helps oversee the college's curriculum, recruitment, career services, academic advising, scholarships, financial aid, and honors programs. Prior to this appointment, he served from 2006 to 2008 as director of the university's Honors Collegium program and as deputy director of Ohio State's NSF-sponsored Center for Affordable Nanoengineering of Polymeric Biomedical Devices from 2006 to 2009. He joined Ohio State in 1993 after earning his PhD in chemical engineering from the University of Illinois in 1992.

Through the Honors Collegium, he worked to create an environment for some of Ohio State's most exceptional students. He is also active in community outreach through the Ohio House of Science and Engineering that connects Ohio State students to area schools and teachers. He currently serves as part of the Collegium Faculty Community, whose members are recruited for their reputation as both distinguished researchers and excellent undergraduate student advisors.

Highly regarded by both his faculty colleagues and students, Professor Tomasko has earned numerous research and teaching awards, and he holds a patent for polymer nanocomposite foams. His research interests are varied and range from studying the impact of delivery methods in undergraduate engineering education and engineering outreach to K-12 students to promoting the use of environmentally benign solvents in chemical and materials processing.

As an outstanding teacher and mentor, he continues to create opportunities for undergraduate students in his research lab. He tirelessly counsels students, especially minority and at-risk students, to help them find their way in the academic community and in engineering.

He has been recognized for his excellence in teaching and education by multiple departmental, college, and university awards including the university's most prestigious teaching award, the Alumni Award for Distinguished Teaching. As a recipient of that award, Professor Tomasko is part of the Academy of Teaching, which helps promote teaching excellence throughout Ohio State.

Other recognitions include the College of Engineering Faculty Diversity Excellence Award, the Exemplary Service Award in the Minority Engineering Program, the Ralph L. Boyer Award for Teaching Innovation, the Lumley Engineering Research Award (three times), the Charles E. MacQuigg Award for Outstanding Teaching (two times), and the Lumley Award for Interdisciplinary Research.

RECIPIENTS OF HONORS

J. Tinsley Oden

DOCTOR OF ENGINEERING

John Tinsley Oden is an associate vice president for research and director of the Institute for Computational Engineering (ICES) at The University of Texas at Austin. He holds the Cockrell Family Regents Chair in Engineering and the Peter O'Donnell Jr. Centennial Chair in Computer Systems.

He was founding director of the ICES, created in 2003 as an expansion of the Texas Institute for Computational and Applied Mathematics, which he also directed for more than a decade. The institute supports broad interdisciplinary research and academic programs in computational engineering and sciences, involving four colleges and 17 academic departments within the university.

After receiving his PhD in engineering mechanics in 1962 from Oklahoma State University, Professor Oden held positions at the University of Alabama in Huntsville before joining the University of Texas at Austin as the Carol and Henry Groppe Professor of Engineering in 1979. He has worked extensively on the mathematical theory and implementation of numerical methods applied to problems in solid and fluid mechanics and nonlinear continuum mechanics. He is the author or editor of more than 500 scientific works, including 53 books, and has graduated 34 MS students and 42 PhD students. The Institute for Scientific Information lists him as one of the most highly cited researchers in the world from 1981 to 1999 in refereed, peer-reviewed journals.

He is a member of the U.S. National Academy of Engineering, the National Academies of Engineering of Mexico and Brazil, and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He is an editor of Computer Methods in Applied Mechanics and Engineering and serves on the editorial boards of 28 scientific journals, as well as numerous organizational, scientific, and advisory committees for international conferences and symposia.

His many honors for his research accomplishments include the title of Chevalier dans l'ordre des Palmes Academiques from the French government, the Worcester Reed Warner Medal, Melvin R. Lohmann Medal, Theodore von Karman Medal, John von Neumann Medal, Newton-Gauss Medal, Stephen P. Timoshenko Medal, and the O.C. Zienkiewicz Medal. He is an honorary member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and a Fellow of seven international scientific/technical societies.

Carl J. Schramm

DOCTOR OF BUSINESS

Carl J. Schramm is recognized internationally as a leading authority on entrepreneurial innovation and economic growth. He is president and CEO of the Ewing Marion Kauffman Foundation, an organization dedicated to creating new firms that grow the economy and expand human welfare. Kauffman is the leading private U.S. funder of economic research related to growth and innovation.

His insight regarding the role of new high-growth firms in fueling economic expansion has been coined "Schramm's Law." He played a prominent role in the 2009 White House jobs summit and has served on two U.S. Department of Commerce innovation committees during the administrations of both George W. Bush and Barack Obama. He also serves on the Prime Minister of Singapore's Research, Innovation, and Enterprise Council. He is credited with opening a new field of economic inquiry—expeditionary economics—which focuses on rebuilding economies in post-conflict nations.

Before joining the Kauffman Foundation, Dr. Schramm served as a professor of health finance and policy at The Johns Hopkins University, led the nation's premier health care industry association, founded several companies that manage health care finance and information technologies, served as executive vice president of Fortis, and established his own merchant banking firm.

Dr. Schramm is a prolific writer whose commentary often runs in such publications as The Wall Street Journal and The Financial Times. His two books, Good Capitalism, Bad Capitalism (with Robert Litan and William Baumol, now published in nine languages) and The Entrepreneurial Imperative, are considered international classics in their field for their insights into economic growth.

Dr. Schramm is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and a Batten Fellow in the Darden Graduate School of Business at the University of Virginia. He earned degrees in economics and law.

John O. Riedl

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD

John O. Riedl is dean and director emeritus of The Ohio State University at Mansfield, having served in that position from 1987 to his retirement in 2003.

After earning his PhD in mathematics from the University of Notre Dame, he joined the Ohio State mathematics faculty in 1966. He was named associate dean of the College of Mathematical and Physical Sciences in 1974 and later served as acting dean for two years. During his tenure in the college, he became a leader in developing and teaching both an honors program in the mathematics as well as courses for teachers of mathematics.

In 1986 he was named special assistant to the provost to investigate issues that were troubling the Mansfield Campus.

He drafted a mission statement and pattern of administration for the regional campus and was appointed its dean and director the following year. Under his leadership, the Mansfield Campus achieved a stable budget and completed a successful capital campaign, enabling the creation of new endowed scholarships, a faculty development endowment, a business program, and a new learning center. A new building on the Mansfield campus was named after him in 2006.

As the campus' top administrator, he led the completion of a campus master plan, established new academic majors, partnered with the MedCentral College of Nursing in establishing a baccalaureate program, and developed an exchange of services agreement with 22 local schools, among numerous other achievements.

Professor Riedl continued teaching throughout his administrative career, concentrating on mathematics for teachers and using technology to enhance calculus teaching. He served on numerous university-wide committees, as coordinating dean for Ohio State's regional campuses from 1988 to 2003, and as president of the Ohio Association of Regional Campuses from 1993 to 1994.

Following his retirement, he has remained actively involved with The Ohio State University Richland County Alumni Club and with an organization promoting college access, and he continues to teach mathematics at the Mansfield Campus.

William D. Wells

William D. Wells is president and CEO of Davis & Son, Inc., a Westerville-based company that develops, builds, and maintains family houses and commercial properties. As a member of The Ohio State University Foundation Board and the Ross Heart Hospital Board, and as nephew of Dorothy M. Davis and steward of the Davis family legacy of wide-ranging support for the university, he is a strong and valued advocate for Ohio State.

Through his work with the Ross Heart Hospital Board, Mr. Wells has been a determined supporter of Ohio State's Heart and Vascular Center, helping to strengthen heart health research through the Dorothy M. Davis Heart and Lung Research Institute. In addition, he is a longtime supporter of the Stefanie Spielman Fund for Breast Cancer Research and of Stefanie's Champions, serving with his wife, Jackie, as the first honorary co-chairs of the now 10-year-old cancer patient support event.

A love of athletics, especially baseball, inspired Mr. Wells and the Davis Foundation to play a leading role in building the university's Bill Davis Stadium, one of the premier collegiate baseball facilities in the nation. Mr. and Mrs. Wells have also endowed two baseball scholarships for Ohio State student athletes and have funded the use of charter airplanes for the baseball program, allowing the athletes more study time and lessening the chance of missed classes. The family's support extends to the Fisher College of Business, where the Davis Chair in the college's Center for Entrepreneurship supports university-wide collaboration and involvement among students and faculty.

Mr. Wells' community service includes membership on the boards of the Capital Area Humane Society; the Franklin Park Conservatory, where he was board president in 2007; and the National Football Foundation's College Hall of Fame (Ernie Godfrey Chapter), where he served as board president from 2008 to 2010.

The Ohio State University 2010 Class Gift

On the eve of graduation in 1891, a group of Ohio State students planted five elm trees on the Oval. Now, more than a century later, "The Five Brothers" grove still grows and the tradition of bestowing a Class Gift upon the university continues.

Through the years, graduating seniors have helped shape the campus experience of countless students, alumni, and friends of Ohio State by offering a Class Gift. The chimes of Orton Hall, "The Long Walk" on the Oval, the beautification of Mirror Lake, and University Hall's tower clock are but a few of the special projects funded by students wishing to commemorate their time spent at this great university.

Now, the Class of 2010 has an opportunity to leave a unique legacy and participate in Ohio State's history of giving. By making a gift to Ohio State, graduating seniors can express appreciation for the education they have received while leaving an indelible environmentally sustainable mark on their alma mater. The Cunz Hall Rain Garden will be enjoyed by students for years to come.

As we continue to build for the future by building on the foundations of the past, graduates who wish to commit $20.10 (or other amount) as part of the 2010 Class Gift may do so online at studentcampaign.osu.edu.

The university congratulates the graduates of 2010, and thanks them for their contributions to the Ohio State community.

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT GEE

Graduates:

Today is a day for celebration. After countless hours of studying, days of anticipation, and years of dedication, you are leaping into the next stage of your life. Humor me in believing that it was not too long ago when I was in your shoes. I remember those feelings very well: nostalgia for the past, anxiety for the present, and excitement for the opportunities that await.

You are entering a world that needs you and the skills and knowledge you gained at Ohio State. Feeling nervous? Embrace that feeling, knowing that you may experience struggles in times to come but reminding yourself that you have faced and overcome many struggles as a college student. Although you may seek immediate answers and solid solutions, instead relish the large victory that you have just won for yourself. Your time at Ohio State and the diploma you receive today will always be yours. And you will be the architect of your future. Set your standards just out of reach, and yours will be a story worth telling.

Your generation has a wonderful ability to collaborate, to think outside the box, and land on your feet in an unexpected place. Think of today as a stepping-stone. I urge you to use it to explore how you can make this state, this nation, and our world a better place. As a graduate of The Ohio State University, you are uniquely prepared to effect change. I expect you to lead the way. And I hope you will drop me a postcard to tell me how you are doing.

O-H!

E. Gordon Gee
President

CONGRATULATIONS AND WELCOME TO THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

On behalf of The Ohio State University Alumni Association, we congratulate you on your academic achievement! For you, one era has passed and another is about to begin. In receiving your degree today, you are joining a distinguished body of more than 465,000 Ohio State alumni who are making a difference in all parts of the world.

Your university has provided you with a well-rounded education that will help you become the leaders of tomorrow. We encourage you to build on your many accomplishments by doing something great: pay forward to your communities and make a difference in the lives of others.

We want you always to be passionate about your alma mater and continue to stay connected virtually: ohiostatealumni.org, and through membership in The Ohio State University Alumni Association. We want to be your gateway in connecting with Ohio State. Therefore, your first year of membership is complimentary and includes many benefits, such as a subscription to Ohio State Alumni Magazine, which will help you stay informed about the university's ambitious agenda and connected with friends and classmates. In addition, the Alumni Association offers many educational programs for its members and networking opportunities, including alumni clubs in every state and in many countries around the world, and alumni societies connected with your colleges.

We celebrate you today and wholeheartedly share in your enthusiasm and all that you have achieved. Your success is driving Ohio State's move from excellence to eminence, and we will continue to count on you to carry on the university's rich and vibrant tradition and reputation. Again, congratulations to you, your family, friends, and all who have helped you reach this milestone in your life as you receive your diploma from The Ohio State University.

Sincerely,

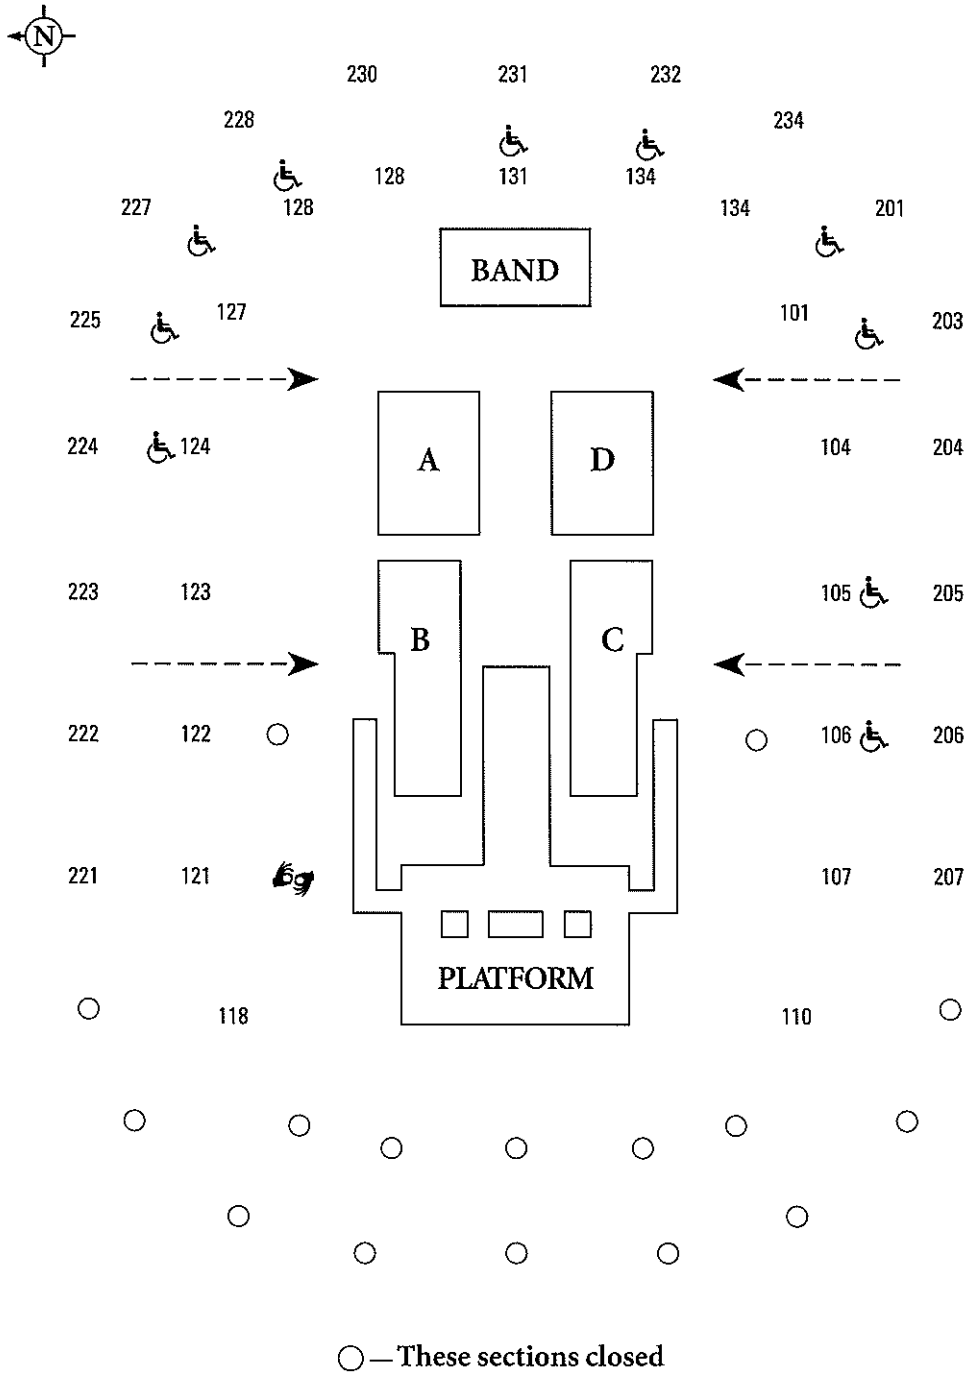

Joseph F. Damore

This program is not an official graduation list.

This printed program lists students who were eligible to graduate for Autumn Quarter 2010, as of 5:00 p.m., December 3, 2010, pending the outcome of final examinations and final grades. Therefore, it should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of the University Registrar, Student Academic Services Building, 281 West Lane Avenue, Columbus, OH 43210-1132.

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral and master's degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the university.

The Gown

Bachelor: The bachelor gown is black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master: The master gown is black, long or short sleeves, with an arc-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor: The Ohio State University Doctor of Philosophy gown is scarlet with gray velvet panels on the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Other doctor gowns are black with velvet panels and bars, the color of which is distinctive of the field of study.

Honors Emblem

The Ohio State University honors emblem is a scarlet and gray tasseled braid worn over the gown. Students eligible for this curricular honor are those graduating summa cum laude, magna cum laude, cum laude, with distinction, and with honors.

The Hood

Bachelor: Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master: Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.

Doctor: Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study.

Cap and Tassel

Candidates for degrees at The Ohio State University wear the black mortarboard with a tassel whose color is distinctive of the degree being received. The tassel colors are as follows:

Graduate School (PhD)	Gray
(Others).....	Black
College of Arts and Sciences
BA.....	White
BA Journalism	Crimson
BAE, BFA	Brown
BM, BME	Pink
BS, BS Design.....	White
Fisher College of Business	Drab
