Alma Mater—Carmen Ohio

Graduates and guests led by
Jennifer Leigh Crain
Class of 1998

*Oh! come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.*

Awarding of Diplomas

Excerpts from the commencement ceremony will be broadcast on WOSU-TV, Channel 34, at 5:30 p.m. today.

A commencement video produced by WOSU-TV is available for purchase from

Bob Greene

Doctor of Journalism

Bob Greene, syndicated columnist and best-selling author, has been called "a virtuoso of the things that bring journalism alive."

His column for the Chicago Tribune is syndicated in more than 200 newspapers in the United States, Canada, and Japan. For nine years, his "American Beat" was the lead column in Esquire magazine, and he has served as a contributing correspondent for "ABC News Nightline."

The Columbus native received a bachelor of science in journalism from Northwestern University in 1969. Following graduation, he joined the Chicago Sun-Times as a general assignment reporter, but within several years became a daily columnist, then a syndicated columnist. In 1978, he switched to the Chicago Tribune.

He has reported on topics ranging from presidential campaigns to rock 'n' roll tours to the plight of abused children. Among his headline-making interviews were those with Patricia Hearst in prison, President Nixon following his resignation, and convicted mass murderer Richard Speck.

Mr. Greene is the author of 17 books, including his most recent, Chevrolet Summers, Dairy Queen Nights. Among his nationally best-selling works of nonfiction are 50-Year Dash; Be True to Your School; Good Morning, Merry Sunshine; Hang Time: Days and Dreams with Michael Jordan; and, with his sister, journalist D. G. Fulford, To Our Children's Children: Preserving Family Histories for Generations to Come.

His work has earned him numerous awards, including the National Headliner Award for the best newspaper column in the United States (1977) and the Peter Lisagor Award for public service journalism (1981). In 1995, for his reporting on how the courts fail children in need, he was named Illinois Journalist of the Year.

Ohio State proudly welcomes this distinguished journalist and chronicler of the human condition to address its graduating class.

RECIPIENTS OF HONORS

Mildred S. Dresselhaus

Doctor of Science

Mildred S. Dresselhaus is chair of the board of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and one of ten distinguished Institute Professors at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. She also holds appointments in the Department of Physics and the Department of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science at MIT.

The Brooklyn, New York, native received her bachelor degree summa cum laude from Hunter College in 1951. She earned her master's degree in 1953 from Radcliffe College and her doctorate in 1958 from the University of Chicago. She did postdoctoral work as a National Science Foundation Fellow at Cornell University before joining the staff of MIT's Lincoln Laboratory. In 1967, she was named to the Abby Rockefeller Mauze Chair as Visiting Professor in MIT's Department of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science. She became permanent holder of the chair in 1973 until she was named Institute Professor in 1985. The title of MIT Institute Professor recognizes distinguished accomplishments in scholarship, education, service, and leadership.

Dr. Dresselhaus' research on solid-state physics and materials science has gained international recognition for its contributions to the basic understanding of the electronic structure of graphite and the modification of carbon-based electronic materials. Her work has provided new approaches for the fabrication of high performance carbon fibers, which have wide application in industry. Her books, Graphite Fibers and Filaments (1988) and Ion Implantation in Diamond, Graphite and Related Materials (1992) are standard references in the field. She has published more than 600 scholarly articles, authored or edited seven books, and supervised the doctoral dissertations of 50 students.

Dr. Dresselhaus has long been committed to developing wider opportunities for women in science and engineering. In 1971, she organized the first Women's Forum at MIT, a program that continues today, and she has chaired the American Physical Society's Committee on the Status of Women in Physics and the National Research Council's Committee on Women in Science and Engineering. She was awarded the Society of Women Engineers Achievement Award in 1977.

Among her many other honors is election to the National Academy of Sciences, National Academy of Engineering, American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and American Philosophical Society. She holds honorary degrees from 13 universities throughout the world and is a 1990 recipient of the National Medal of Science.

Ohio State proudly adds its own recognition of the many contributions of this eminent scientist, educator, policymaker, and adviser.

George R. St. Pierre

Doctor of Science

George R. St. Pierre is Distinguished University Professor and Chair Emeritus of The Ohio State University's Department of Materials Science and Engineering. During his 35-year tenure, he was widely acknowledged as one of the university's most respected and beloved professors.

The Massachusetts native received a 1951 bachelor's degree and a 1954 doctorate in metallurgy from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Following graduation, he worked briefly as a research scientist at the Inland Steel Co. and served as a U.S. Air Force officer at Wright Patterson Air Force Base before joining the Ohio State faculty in 1957 as assistant professor of metallurgical engineering. He became full professor in 1964 and served as associate dean of the Graduate School from 1964 to 1966. He then devoted himself to teaching for nearly two decades, serving as chair of the Department of Metallurgical Engineering from 1984 to 1988 and as the first chair of the newly reconfigured Department of Materials Science and Engineering from 1988 until his 1992 retirement. Dr. St. Pierre was also chair of the Division of Mining Engineering from 1985 to 1992. After his retirement, he served a year as Chief Scientist, Materials Directorate at Wright Patterson AFB.

Dr. St. Pierre's research on the applications of physical chemistry in metallurgical and materials processing has brought him international recognition and numerous awards, including the College of Engineering's Boyer Award, the Mineral Industry Award of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers, and the Gold Medal of the American Society for Metals International. He has published more than 150 scholarly works in the scientific literature as well as numerous technical reports for government and industry and has long been in demand as a presenter at scientific conferences worldwide.

His skill at teaching and commitment to his students, both undergraduate and graduate, have been honored throughout his career. He is a four-time recipient of Ohio State's student-driven Mars G. Fontana Teaching Award and has received both the Alumni Distinguished Teaching and Scholar Awards. The American Society for Metals gave him its Bradley Stoughton Outstanding Young Teacher award in 1961 and the Albert Easton White Distinguished Teacher Award in 1997. In 1988, he received the university's Presidential Professor Award.

In recognition of one who has amply fulfilled the university's mission of teaching, research, and service, Ohio State is proud to honor a distinguished member of its own community.

RECIPIENTS OF HONORS

K. Wayne Smith

Doctor of Humane Letters

Kwayne Smith has been president and chief executive officer of Online Computer Library Center, Inc. (OCLC) in Dublin, Ohio, since 1989. His contributions to education, scholarship, and information technology have helped make library services available to millions worldwide.

A native of North Carolina, Dr. Smith graduated summa cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa from Wake Forest University in 1960 with a B.A. in political science. He received an M.A. in economics in 1962 and a Ph.D. in political science in 1964 from Princeton University, where he was a Danforth and Woodrow Wilson Fellow. From 1963 to 1966, he served as a captain in the U.S. Army and was an assistant professor of social sciences at the United States Military Academy, West Point.

During his distinguished career, Dr. Smith has held important posts in higher education, business, and government. He served as special assistant to the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Systems Analysis) from 1966 to 1969 and as director of program analysis for the National Security Council under Henry Kissinger from 1970 to 1972, where he participated in the SALT I treaty and Vietnam cease-fire talks. He also served on President Carter's Energy Activation Task Force, which established the Department of Energy.

In 1973, Dr. Smith was named president and CEO of Dart Properties Group, part of the Los Angeles-based conglomerate, Dart Industries. From 1977 to 1983, he was group managing partner and senior partner of Coopers & Lybrand's Washington, D.C., operations. In 1983 he became chair and CEO of World Book, Inc., the Chicago-based publisher of educational materials. Immediately prior to his OCLC appointment, he served from 1986 to 1988 as president and CEO of K. Wayne Smith and Associates, a North Carolina-based family holding company. During this period he also held the post of university professor at Wake Forest, teaching in the departments of economics, politics, and business.

During Dr. Smith's tenure, OCLC, which was founded in 1967 at Ohio State's Main Library, has become a global force for research, scholarship, and education. It has extended computer services from 10,000 libraries to 26,000 and has pioneered the development of electronic scholarly journals. The OCLC bibliographic database is the most consulted database in higher education and is used daily by university students and faculty in 65 countries, including Russia and China.

Dr. Smith is the recipient of numerous honors and awards, including the Distinguished Alumnus Award from Wake Forest University, the Distinguished Service Award from the U.S. Department of Energy, and the Outstanding Leadership Award from Dart Industries. In 1996, a new 167,000-square-foot conference and training center at OCLC was named in his honor.

Ohio State is proud to recognize the breadth of accomplishments of this distinguished educator, businessman, and public servant.

Joanne Wharton Murphy

Distinguished Service Award

In her nearly 40-year affiliation with Ohio State, Joanne Wharton Murphy touched the lives of countless students and alumni. At the time of her death last October, she was assistant dean emeritus for alumni and external relations in the university's College of Law.

A native of Coshocton, Ohio, Dean Murphy graduated from Miami University in 1956. She enrolled as one of only four women in Ohio State's College of Law, receiving her J.D. degree in 1958. She began her legal career with a Chicago trust company before moving back to Columbus in 1963 to serve as an assistant attorney general for the state of Ohio. From 1965 to 1971, she served as assistant dean in Ohio State's College of Law. In 1971, she was named associate dean and associate professor of law at Case Western Reserve University School of Law. She returned to Ohio State in 1973 to serve as University Ombudsman, negotiating and resolving a variety of issues involving faculty, staff, and students.

From 1975 to 1977, she chaired Ohio State's Commission on Women and Minorities, which produced a comprehensive three-volume study with far-reaching recommendations for inclusiveness at the university. She was named assistant dean of the College of Law in 1980, retiring in 1995. From 1973 until her death, she also served as an adjunct professor teaching a yearly seminar and a course in banking law.

Dean Murphy's commitment to students extended far beyond their graduation, and she was largely responsible for building a loyal network of law alumni throughout the country. She received the Ohio State Law Alumni Association's Alumna of the Year Award in 1997, honoring her for her teaching, administrative accomplishments, and leadership in the Ohio legal community. Her service as a role model for women in the legal profession was recognized in 1995 with the Ohio State Bar Association's first Nettie Cronise Lutes Award.

Always active in community affairs, Dean Murphy was a founding member of the Columbus Metropolitan Club and served on the boards of Friends in Action, the Women's Research and Policy Development Organizing Committee, and the World Society for Ekistics.

She was a member of the Ohio and Illinois bars, the American and Ohio State Bar Associations, the Franklin County Women Lawyers Association, and an honorary member of Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity and the Order of the Coif.

She will long be remembered for her compassion, sensitivity, and professionalism. It is with deep respect and gratitude that Ohio State posthumously honors this remarkable woman.

Frank Wobst

Distinguished Service Award

Frank Wobst is chairman and chief executive officer of Columbus-based Huntington Bancshares Incorporated, a bank holding company with approximately $30 billion in assets, operating in 13 states.

Mr. Wobst was born in Dresden, Germany, and was raised and educated in that country, attending college in Erlangen and Gottingen, where he studied economics and law. He came to the United States in 1958 and is a graduate of Rutgers University's Stonier Graduate School of Banking.

His banking career began in 1958 at the Fidelity National Bank in Lynchburg, Virginia, where he remained until 1974, when he moved to Columbus to become president of the Huntington National Bank.

Long active in Columbus civic and cultural affairs, Mr. Wobst has been instrumental in securing the Huntington's support for a wide variety of projects both at Ohio State and in the community. Significant gifts from Huntington National Bank enabled the Wexner Center for the Arts to present a retrospective of pop artist Roy Lichtenstein's works and helped sponsor an appearance by tap star Savion Glover. Programs in the Fisher College of Business, the College of Humanities, the Department of Athletics, and WOSU have also benefited from the Huntington's generosity.

Mr. Wobst's service extends well beyond Columbus. He has shaped effective international partnerships for Ohio, including the award-winning sister city relationship between Dresden and Columbus that promotes cultural, economic, and social exchange.

Mr. Wobst has been an active member of The Ohio State University Foundation Board since 1991, as well as a member of the Dean's Advisory Council and campaign committee of the Fisher College of Business, serving as an effective advocate and friend of the university. He is also on the board of a number of corporate, professional, and civic organizations, serving as trustee and past chair of the Columbus Museum of Art, trustee and past chair of Children's Hospital of Columbus, trustee and past chair of the Development Council of Ohio, trustee and past chair of Columbus School for Girls, trustee and treasurer of Friends of Dresden, past director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, and member of the Bankers Roundtable.

In 1987, Mr. Wobst was named Honorary Consul for the Federal Republic of Germany. He received the Order of Merit, 1st Class, from the Federal Republic of Germany in 1996 and an honorary law degree from Capital University in 1995.

Ohio State is proud to recognize the effective stewardship, wise counsel, and generous spirit of this distinguished business leader.

1998 RECIPIENTS OF THE ALUMNI AWARD FOR DISTINGUISHED TEACHING

The Academy of Teaching represents excellence in teaching and reflects Ohio State's commitment to quality education. Membership in the Academy of Teaching is a great honor, reserved for those recipients of the Alumni Award for Distinguished Teaching. Its members are charged with promoting, enhancing, and recognizing good teaching. Their projects include mentoring young faculty members, helping prepare graduate students for teaching, serving as consultants and reviewers for departments, and advising the president and the chief academic officers on important issues relating to teaching.

Robert S. Coleman

*Associate Professor of Chemistry
College of Mathematical and Physical Sciences*

An internationally known organic chemist, Professor Coleman was actively recruited to Ohio State from the University of South Carolina in 1996. He teaches one of the most demanding, competitive courses at Ohio State—organic chemistry—at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Students roundly praise his breadth of knowledge and willingness to help students. "I will be forever grateful to whatever forces or luck placed me in Professor Coleman's class. His enthusiasm in organic chemistry and in teaching is contagious and inspiring," one former student wrote. Another student said Professor Coleman's "ability to make such a difficult course seem more comprehensible by using many different examples was an excellent method of teaching. He had so much enthusiasm that it made me want to learn!" Professor Coleman earned his bachelor's degree in chemistry from the University of Iowa, his master's degree in medicinal chemistry from the University of Kansas, and a doctoral degree in organic chemistry from Purdue University.

Michael J. Earley

*Assistant Professor of Clinical Optometry
College of Optometry*

Professor Earley is noted for many talents as a teacher, but a common theme in students' praise is their own desire to perform well academically in return for his investment in their education. A former student wrote, "If I had only one word to describe why Dr. Earley should win this award it would be 'enthusiasm.' If I had several more words I would include intellectual rigor, high standards, a sense of humor, the ability to listen, clarity of thought, and genuine interest in his students." Known for his accessibility, Professor Earley also is revered for his vast knowledge of the subjects he teaches, especially in general anatomy, histological anatomy, and ocular anatomy—three rigorous courses for optometry students. One student observed, "Not one time did he read off notes, and whenever a question was asked, he would fire an answer right back. To sum it up, I think the man is a genius!" Professor Earley joined the faculty as assistant professor in 1992. He received his bachelor's in biology from Northwestern University and holds his O.D., master's, and Ph.D. in physiological optics from Ohio State.

---

William J. Davis

*Professor of Mathematics
College of Mathematical and Physical Sciences*

The cofounder of one of the country's major calculus reform projects, Professor Davis teaches Calculus & Mathematica (C&M), a relatively new method that teaches students to analyze problems from a conceptual perspective and use computer software to pursue a solution. One colleague noted that the Calculus & Mathematica materials Professor Davis helped create have become staples for courses at several universities and have become "one of the most respected and successful efforts in the national move to reform the teaching of calculus." One student said, "I really appreciate how he's helped me learn not only math, but how to investigate." Another wrote, "I've never had so much fun with math." A colleague noted that perhaps the strongest student endorsement of Professor Davis occurred last autumn, when 15 students closed out of a C&M course demanded that another section be created to accommodate them. Professor Davis has taught at Ohio State since 1964 and earned his bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees from Case Institute of Technology.

Bernard L. Erven

*Professor of Agricultural Economics
College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences*

Awards are nothing new for Professor Erven. In the nearly 30 years that he has served on Ohio State's faculty, he has been honored many times for his teaching, service, and advising. Students note his tendency to self-evaluate and encourage student participation, even in large lecture classes. One student said Professor Erven "always wanted to change his class for the better" and called him an "excellent role model for other teachers." Colleagues, too, praise Professor Erven for his strong committee work. One Extension specialist wrote that groups request Professor Erven's participation at meetings "so he can 'teach' them how to move forward as they work on complex problems." Primarily a teacher of key courses in the agribusiness and applied economics major, Professor Erven earned his bachelor's and master's degrees at Ohio State and his doctorate in agricultural economics from the University of Wisconsin. Among his previous honors is a 1985 Alumni Award for Distinguished Teaching. "I have tried to think of a negative comment," one student wrote in evaluating Professor Erven's teaching. "The only thing negative that comes to mind is that he will someday have to retire."

Lawrence A. Krissek

Associate Professor of Geological Sciences
College of Mathematical and Physical Sciences

In the same way Michael Jordan's outstanding basketball performance improves his teammates' play, Professor Krissek's dedication and teaching ability make his students "better students, better geologists, and on a larger scale, better thinkers," one student wrote. In a variation on that theme, a former student noted Professor Krissek's toughness: "He has a stern hand with a red pen, but that same red pen helped to teach me the value of concise scientific writing." In addition to his departmental responsibilities teaching oceanography, geologic environment, and historical geology, Professor Krissek has developed a summer geology curriculum at Stone Laboratory for primary and secondary science teachers and for science-minded high school students. Professor Krissek is a two-time winner of the Distinguished Teaching Award presented by graduate students in the Department of Geology and Mineralogy. He joined the Ohio State faculty in 1982 after earning his Ph.D. in oceanography at Oregon State University and his bachelor's degree at the University of Washington.

Richard J. Lundman

Professor of Sociology
College of Social and Behavioral Sciences

Criminology and deviance are among Professor Lundman's areas of teaching expertise, but gently guiding students to reach their potential—in any field—appears to be his specialty. Several students supporting his award nomination noted Professor Lundman's engaging style and his encouragement of their individual academic pursuits. "His office hours are continuously booked with students waiting in line for an opportunity to discuss some idea or project," a colleague confirmed. Professor Lundman is praised for combining classroom teaching with police ride-alongs and visits to correctional and rehabilitation institutions, bridging the theoretical and practical components of criminology. His teaching has not gone unnoticed in his 23 years on the Ohio State faculty. Professor Lundman has received the Rosalene Sedgwick Faculty Award from the Colleges of the Arts and Sciences and was a nominee for the colleges' Outstanding Teaching Award every year from 1981 to 1996; he was a finalist in 1988. One student noted Professor Lundman's important and honest advice to "find something that you have a passion for and study it; you'll never regret the decision you made."

Myroslava M. Mudrak

Associate Professor of History of Art
College of the Arts

"Mentor" is a word that crops up a lot when students and colleagues describe Professor Mudrak. "She is remarkably skillful at giving her students both intellectual freedom and sound, objective advice without going too far in either direction," wrote one former student. It is noted that her graduate students, in a difficult job market, have all found employment in academia, museums, auction houses, or other professional venues, and many attribute their success to her encouragement and sage counsel. Acknowledged as one of the nation's foremost scholars of Eastern European art, Professor Mudrak also is known as a creative and highly organized teacher. Her exams often take unusual forms, such as requiring the students to curate an art exhibit to illustrate the principles underlying a particular art movement. A member of the Ohio State faculty since 1982, she earned her B.A. at Case Western Reserve University, her M.A. from Columbia University, and her Ph.D. from the University of Texas.

John J. Skowronski

Associate Professor of Psychology
Newark Campus

"Dr. John," as his students are encouraged to call him, is known as one of the toughest yet most popular teachers on the Newark campus, where he has taught since 1986. His students praise his enthusiasm, clarity, and accessibility. "Dr. John is obviously doing what he loves—teaching," wrote a student. "His desire to pass along his vast knowledge is both obvious and inspiring. He will take whatever time and whatever means necessary to help a student." Over the past three years, in addition to teaching 14 regular psychology courses, Professor Skowronski supervised 22 students in individual studies, five of whom presented their research at professional meetings. An active researcher himself, Professor Skowronski is widely published and a frequently invited speaker on social psychology topics, particularly in the areas of memory and cognition. He is a graduate of Augustana College and earned his M.A. and Ph.D. in social psychology from the University of Iowa.

John W. Wenzel

Assistant Professor of Entomology
College of Biological Sciences

"Inspiring," "enthusiastic," "knowledgeable," and "very cool" are comments from Professor Wenzel's entomology and biology students. Professor Wenzel's use of humor and current events makes his lectures relevant and lively and keeps students interested. He encourages participation and responds to questions in such a way to make the students feel intelligent for their inquiry. A student curious about the taste of larval bees, for example, was given the opportunity to sample one. Professor Wenzel, a faculty member since 1994, teaches both science and nonscience majors at the undergraduate and graduate levels. He has developed many innovative labs for his introductory entomology course. One of the most unusual uses mouse cadavers—pests captured in Professor Wenzel's house and then frozen—to introduce students to the new field of forensic entomology. Students in his evolutionary biology course say Professor Wenzel takes the controversy of creation vs. evolution and presents the theories with balance and fairness. Professor Wenzel received his bachelor's in biology from Harvard College and a Ph.D. in entomology from the University of Kansas.

THE DEPARTMENTAL TEACHING EXCELLENCE AWARD

Sponsored by the Office of Academic Affairs and The Ohio State University Alumni Association, the Departmental Teaching Excellence Award honors outstanding performance in teaching by two academic departments each year. The award recognizes the central role that undergraduate, graduate, and professional teaching plays in the university's mission and further acknowledges that collective efforts are essential if individual efforts are to thrive. Excellent performance by many teachers ultimately determines the quality of a student's education. To be a finalist for this award is indeed an honor; to win it shows the highest commitment to teaching and learning.

The 1998 award recipients are the Department of Agricultural Education and the Department of English.

CONGRATULATIONS AND WELCOME TO THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Congratulations on receiving your degree. You may not notice the difference, but today, along with hundreds of your colleagues, you have joined the ranks of Ohio State alumni. For you, one era has passed, and another is about to begin.

You are a member of the Buckeye family and partner in the enterprise, carrying the reputation of Ohio State through your activities and accomplishments. You exemplify the fruits of a good education: a critical mind, a discerning spirit, higher values, a sense of commitment, and the privilege of service.

You can assist the university in many ways. You can recruit new and highly qualified students. You can represent Ohio State well through personal and occupational achievements. You can participate financially through the Development Fund. And you can work in an advisory capacity with the university to improve it and its programs to better prepare today's students for tomorrow's citizenship.

We extend to you a year's complimentary membership in the Alumni Association. Included is a year's subscription to the Ohio State Alumni Magazine, which will keep you informed of the university's continuing pursuit of excellence and help you keep in touch with your friends and classmates.

To you, your family, friends, and all those who helped you reach this day go our best wishes. You are joining a great family of Ohio State alumni working together to make a difference around the world.

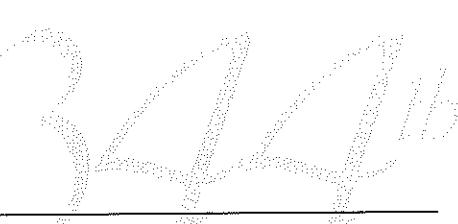

Cordially,

Thomas J. Moyer

Graduates with Honors

Criteria for graduating with honors are as follows:

Summa Cum Laude designates those graduating in the top 3% of the class.

Magna Cum Laude designates those graduating in the top 6% of the class.

Cum Laude designates those graduating in the top 10% of the class.

With Distinction requires successful completion of a Senior Honors Thesis and graduation in the top 25% of the class.

With Honors in the Liberal Arts requires successful completion of the Arts and Sciences Honors Contract and graduation in the top 25% of the class.

University Commendation designates those whose attainment of high academic standards is judged by the college to be especially meritorious.

This program is not an official graduation list

While every effort is made to ensure accuracy in this commencement program, printing deadlines sometimes prevent inclusion of graduates' names or may result in use of names of persons not completing graduation requirements. This printed program, therefore, should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record kept by the Office of The University Registrar, 202 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43210.

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In the light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the university.

The Gown

Bachelor: Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master: Black, long or short sleeves with a reshaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor: Black with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

Honors Emblem

The Ohio State University honors emblem is a scarlet and gray tasseled braid worn over the gown. Students eligible for this curricular honor are those graduating summa cum laude, magna cum laude, cum laude, with distinction, with honors in the liberal arts, and with honors in pharmacy.

The Hood

Bachelor: Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master: Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Doctor: Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study:

Dentistry .....	Lilac
Law .....	Purple
Medicine .....	Green
Musical Arts .....	Pink
Optometry .....	Seafoam Green
Pharmacy .....	Olive Green
Philosophy .....	Dark Blue
Veterinary Medicine .....	Gray

* Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.

Cap and Tassel

Candidates for degrees at The Ohio State University wear the black mortarboard with a tassel whose color is distinctive of the degree being received. The tassel colors are as follows:

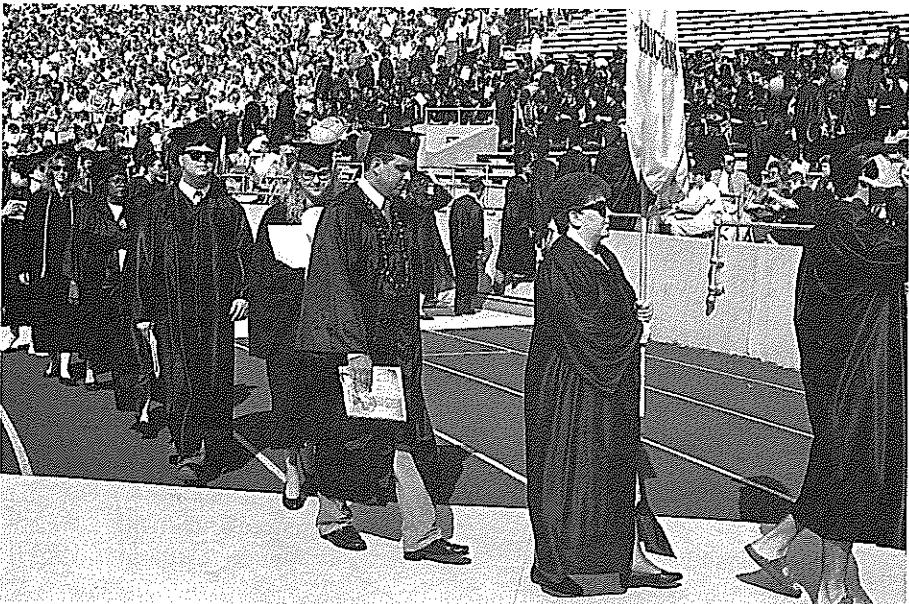

Graduate School .....	Black
Colleges of the Arts and Sciences
College of the Arts (B.A., B.S.I.D.) .....	White
(Others) .....	Brown
School of Music (B.A.) .....	White
(Others) .....	Pink
College of Biological Sciences .....	White
College of Humanities .....	White
College of Mathematical and Physical Sciences .....	White
College of Social and Behavioral Sciences .....	White
School of Journalism and Communication (B.A.) .....	White
(B.A. Journalism) .....	Crimson
School of Public Policy and Management .....	Peacock Blue
Max M. Fisher College of Business .....	Drab
College of Dentistry .....	Lilac
College of Education .....	Light Blue
College of Engineering .....	Orange
Austin E. Knowlton School of Architecture .....	Blue-Violet
College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences .....	Maize
School of Natural Resources .....	Blue-Green
College of Human Ecology .....	Maroon
College of Law .....	Purple
College of Medicine .....	Green
School of Allied Medical Professions .....	Green
College of Nursing .....	Apricot
College of Optometry .....	Seafoam Green
College of Pharmacy .....	Olive Green
College of Social Work .....	Citron
College of Veterinary Medicine .....	Gray

The gold tassel is worn frequently by those holding the doctoral degree and by college and university administrative officers.

Photographs

As a courtesy to those persons receiving degrees today, please remain seated in the stands until the graduates have received their diplomas and have moved past the stadium gates. Photographs may be taken from the stands at any time during the ceremony. However, only press photographers will be permitted on the field.

Complimentary Programs

A limited number of programs are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Requests should be sent to the Office of Commencement and Special Events, 1120 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, OH 43210-1230.

INCLEMENT WEATHER PLAN

No indoor facility on campus is large enough to accommodate the graduating class and 35,000 guests. In the case of inclement weather, every effort will be made to hold Commencement as planned.

Ohio State officials will be in continuous contact with the National Weather Service to monitor approaching weather. If it is feasible to delay the start of the ceremony and wait for clearing or less severe weather, the start of the ceremony may be delayed up to one hour. Should this happen, any changes will be announced on site to the graduates and guests. Graduates will remain in French Field House; guests are asked to remain in the protected areas of Ohio Stadium. Your patience and cooperation will help facilitate this plan.

In case of cancellation

If the delay option has been exhausted and it is determined that severe weather will not permit us to hold Commencement, the ceremony will be cancelled. Once cancellation has been officially announced, graduates should report to the following locations one hour after cancellation to receive their diplomas.

It is strongly advised that graduates and guests prearrange a meeting place in case the ceremony is cancelled. Guests should not go to French Field House where diplomas will be distributed to graduates. St. John Arena, Larkins Hall, Drake Union, and various locations on West Lane Avenue are some suggested meeting sites.

Diplomas will remain in the following locations until 3 p.m. on Commencement day. Diplomas not picked up by 3 p.m. will be taken to the University Registrar's office in 320 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive. Diplomas will be available for pick up there between 9:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., June 15-19. If a diploma remains unclaimed after June 19, it will be mailed to the home address on record within one month of Commencement. Mailing addresses can be verified by calling the University Registrar's office at (614) 292-1960; fax (614) 292-1684; or e-mail: commence@exchange.ureg.ohio-state.edu.
