POMP, CIRCUMSTANCE, AND OTHER SONGS OF A LIFETIME

—by Professor David Citino, 1947-2005, Late University Poet Laureate (Originally presented as the 2000 Winter Commencement address)

If you're like me, you've got a big head,
not to mention a funny robe, full of music—
poems and melodies, the tunes
we move to, shower and shave by,
study, write to. Not just the incidental,

but the momentous music keeping time.
Our histories are measures of song.
Listen to your heart: drums of Africa,
sea-spume of blind, far-sighted Homer, Sappho's honeyed love lyrics. Often,

music speaks for us, one note saying a thousand words. Like Rodolpho in Puccini's La Bohème, Sono un poeta.
I am a poet. Che cosa faccio? What do I do? Scrivo. I write. This ceremony

is loud music—pomp and circumstance of the life you began freshman year or that first day of graduate school.
In my head I press Play, and the CD
of Big Days kicks on. I leap and linger

over moments too sweet, nearly, for words.
I'll never escape rhymes from the nursery.
*Up above the world so high, like a diamond
in the sky*. We knew from the start our universe was aglow with wonder.

Italian, Latin, English songs in nasal accents
of Cleveland. Gaudeamus igitur, Juvenes dum sumus. So, let us rejoice, while we are young. Youth is that gift we can't comprehend while we're young. This ceremony means you all are less young than you were.

Don't let the heavy knowledge gained from your studies deprive you of the gifts of youth, to be able to rejoice at the drop of a hat, to care for, be moved by others.

Now I hear golden hits of five decades.
Big Mama Thornton, and that so-called King
(King of what, fried butter sandwiches?)
who stole away her hound dog. You ain't never killed a rabbit, you ain't no friend of mine. As with those profs and TAs, course after course, you had to produce—

kill some rabbits—to earn respect.
And at times OSU may have seemed like Heartbreak Hotel, down at the end of Lonely Street, so difficult was it to do your best. Tennessee Ernie Ford, "Sixteen Tons": St. Peter don't you call me 'Cause I can't go, I owe my soul to the company store.

You have been digging deep in mines of knowledge. We all owe our souls to Ohio State, company store of learning, shared experience—precious ore
we have in common forever.

Now I hear Domenico Modugno's
fervent urging to wish, sing, fly, Volare, Wo-oo. Cantare, Wo-o-o-o.
My grandfather was a peasant farmer,
a contadino in Calabria in the toe of Italy. He knew it's the human lot to dream of flying. *Lucky, lucky,

lucky me, I'm a lucky son-of-a-gun*.
I work eight hours, I sleep eight hours.
That leaves eight hours for fun.

Hey! He sailed in steerage across the Atlantic, came to Cleveland, where he stayed long enough to work 52 years for the B&O Railroad, before lying down to rest in good Ohio soil. So many of us here today came from elsewhere,

or ancestors did. From Tennessee, Italy, Africa, Asia, Appalachia—even,
President Kirwan, the wilds of Kentucky and Maryland. Women and men with backs supple as birch trunks. The courage it took to pick up stakes and begin again in a new world! Think of the work those older ones did. For you. You all are facing a change right now.

This sheepskin is your passport.
You're bound for emigration to the next song of your life. Ohio State is the ark on which you've been sailing.
You've been the precious cargo.

But, as Noah once said, I can see clearly now the rain is gone. The ark, our university, was filled to overflowing
with the diversity of us. Diversity.
Networks and talk shows devalue the word.

I say, rather, the richness of us,
precious difference, the grand multiplicity
of selves that balance this globe and enable it to spin true. Grandson of peasant immigrants, I was given the opportunity to earn a doctorate in English literature from Ohio State—because my family labored long nights

around the kitchen table trying to learn this arduous English. I sat where you're sitting twenty-six years ago.

Bob Dylan and Smokey Robinson got me
through. Yes, it took a prophet and Miracles!
My son earned an OSU Ph.D. in history.
Now you, graduates, are being honored—

by degrees. We've all come together around the kitchen table of Ohio State.
Ohio, Round on the ends and high in the middle. For the years to come we'll sing together, Beautiful Ohio,

in dreams again I see, Visions of what used to be. These psalms, sacred thoughts of our tribes, 78's and 33's, tapes, CD's—they take up space in shelves of our skulls, our hearts. They remind us

we want a song beyond the run-of-the-mill thrill, the moment throbbing
with pleasure or bathed in the blues.
We ache for something grander than pure selfishness. Songs sung for one alone are not true music. Arias shared are music of the spheres, ways of saying to another something from the soul.

Of course the Buckeye Battle Cry
is there. Drive, drive on down the field,

Men (and women!) of the Scarlet and Gray. Well, you drove on down the field, and you drove up and down the streets, around and around crowded lots, looking for a place to park,

and you searched our dark, ancient library
for a decent place to study. My wife, Mary's, father marched in the first
"Script Ohio," in 1936. He's here today with us, blowing his horn, I can't help

but feel, as is the sweet mother
I lost last year, the one who gave me the stars. Today's music makes us think of the debts we owe, and never can repay.
So many of us would not be here

were it not for the lullabies and songs of dear parents, their parents, theirs.
Some are here today in the flesh.
Many are not. We mourn them with cadences of our hearts. Think how many people sang before us, gave us a name, a voice, taught us the right words. We must cherish them by remembering every song.

When we sing to others, we honor
our fathers and mothers, thank them

for this day of profound scarlet and gray pomp and circumstance. O, come let's sing Ohio's praise, And songs to Alma Mater raise. Alma mater.
Ohio State is our sweet, nurturing mother.

We came of age here, with her help.
Well, Mother, we love you, but, like,
*it's time we moved out, got a place
of our own*. You're standing there, Mom, gray hair, eyes scarlet from crying. We won't forget you.

Now, even though this ceremony
means we're being weaned, taken off the nipple, let's take care to cherish her all our days. Let's remember the words to the songs she taught us, and pass them on. We'll remember always, Graduation Day. *Summer's heat,

and winter's cold, The seasons pass,
the years will roll, Time and change*

will surely show How firm thy friendship, O-hi-O. We call that little number Carmen Ohio. Carmen means song in Latin. You've worked hard; she is your reward; today is your reward.

You're filled to overflowing with the notes, the poems we've written together. You know the score.
Continue to work hard for yourselves,
and one another. Find the ones who need you to sing to, for them, in the world.

Graduates, this joyful litany, this hymn
our ancestors collaborated on with us,
the calling of your name today is music to our ears. Sing that name proudly

all your days, as if your life depended on it. It does, you know. It has been an honor for me to speak—and sing—
to you today. Thank you, graduates, and, again, Congratulations.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

William J. Clinton

Doctor of Public Service

William J. Clinton was born on August 19, 1946, in Hope, Arkansas. He graduated from Georgetown University and in 1968 won a Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford University. President Clinton received a law degree from Yale University in 1973 and shortly thereafter entered politics in Arkansas.

He was defeated in his campaign for Congress in Arkansas's Third District in 1974. The next year he married Hillary Rodham, a graduate of Wellesley College and Yale Law School. In 1980, Chelsea, their only child, was born. Clinton was elected Arkansas Attorney General in 1976 and won the governorship in 1978. After losing a bid for a second term, he regained the office four years later and served until his 1992 bid for the Presidency of the United States.

Elected President of the United States in 1992, and again in 1996, President Clinton was the first Democratic president to be awarded a second term in six decades. Under his leadership, the United States enjoyed the strongest economy in a generation and the longest economic expansion in U.S. history. President Clinton's core values of building community, creating opportunity, and demanding responsibility resulted in unprecedented progress for America, including moving the nation from record deficits to record surpluses; the creation of over 22 million jobs—more than any other administration; low levels of unemployment, poverty, and crime; and the highest homeownership and college enrollment rates in history.

President Clinton's accomplishments in the White House include increasing investment in education, providing tax relief for working families, helping millions of Americans move from welfare to work, expanding access to technology, encouraging investment in underserved communities, protecting the environment, countering the threat of terrorism, and promoting peace and strengthening democracy around the world. His administration's economic policies fostered the largest peacetime economic expansion in history. President Clinton previously served as the Governor of Arkansas, chair of the National Governors' Association, and Attorney General of Arkansas. As former chair of the Democratic Leadership Council, he is one of the original architects and leading advocates of the Third Way movement.

Since 2001, President Clinton has dedicated himself to philanthropy and continued public service through the William J. Clinton Foundation. The foundation is focused on pressing challenges at home and abroad and is committed to practical and measurable solutions to address them. Its initiatives focus on four critical areas: health security, with an emphasis on HIV/AIDS; economic empowerment; leadership development and citizen service; and racial, ethnic, and religious reconciliation.

Following the 2002 Barcelona AIDS Conference, President Clinton began the Clinton Foundation HIV/AIDS Initiative (CHAI) to assist countries in implementing large-scale, integrated, care, treatment, and prevention programs that will turn the tide on the epidemic. CHAI has brought AIDS care and treatment to more than 750,000 people living with AIDS in more than 65 countries around the world. Foundation staff partners work on the ground in Africa, the Caribbean, and Asia to develop operational business plans to scale-up care and treatment.

President Clinton and the American Heart Association partnered in May 2005 to create a new generation of healthy Americans by addressing the leading public health threat of childhood obesity. The alliance's overall effort targets four key areas to spark change and encourage healthier lifestyles for young people: industry, schools, health care professionals, and kids. The alliance's Healthy Schools Program is providing hands-on technical assistance to 230 schools across 13 states. In 2006, the alliance reached voluntary agreements with major beverage and snack food companies to sell more nutritious products in schools. In the United States, President Clinton also works through the Clinton Foundation Urban Enterprise Initiative to help small businesses acquire the tools they need to compete in the ever-changing urban marketplace.

In September 2005, President Clinton hosted the inaugural meeting of the Clinton Global Initiative (CGI). CGI is a nonpartisan catalyst for action, bringing together a community of global leaders to devise and implement innovative solutions to some of the world's most pressing challenges. At an annual meeting each September, CGI members are asked to sign a written agreement, detailing their commitment to take action in one of four focus areas. The meeting is designed to stimulate practical ideas that result in direct and immediate action. Attendees who do not make or keep their commitment are not invited to attend future meetings. Hundreds of commitments are currently taking place helping to improve the lives of people on six continents.

In the summer of 2006, President Clinton and the Clinton Foundation partnered with philanthropist Tom Hunter and the Hunter Foundation to launch the Clinton-Hunter Development Initiative (CHDI). Originally a commitment made by Sir Tom Hunter at the CGI 2005 annual meeting, CHDI is investing $100 million over 10 years in Africa to work with national governments in developing holistic frameworks to support economic development through food security, clean water, sanitation, and quality health care. CHDI is currently at work in Rwanda and Malawi, at the invitation of the countries' governments, to increase the productivity of the countries' agriculture sectors, remove barriers to cost-effective trade, expand access to clean water and sanitation, and strengthen rural hospitals.

Building on his long-term commitment to preserving the environment, President Clinton launched the Clinton Climate Initiative in August 2006, with the mission of applying the foundation's business-oriented approach to the fight against climate change in practical, measurable, and significant ways. In its first phase, CCI is working with the C40 Large Cities Climate Leadership Group—a network of 40 of the largest cities in the world—to accelerate efforts to reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

President Clinton has dedicated himself to several humanitarian efforts outside of his foundations' activities. Following Hurricane Katrina in August 2005, President Clinton and former President Bush led a nationwide fund-raising effort and established the Bush-Clinton Katrina Fund to assist survivors in the rebuilding effort. This campaign was the second collaboration for the former presidents, the first being their work on relief and recovery following the Indian Ocean tsunami. President Clinton also served as the United Nations Special Envoy for Tsunami Recovery for two years following the 2004 tsunami.

Gerald D. Buckberg

Doctor of Science

Gerald D. Buckberg is a Distinguished Professor of Surgery, Division of Cardiothoracic Surgery, at the David Geffen School of Medicine at the University of California, Los Angeles.

After receiving his undergraduate degree from The Ohio State University in 1957, Dr. Buckberg earned his medical degree at the University of Cincinnati. He interned and did his early general surgical training at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland, received his complete general surgical and cardiothoracic training at the University of California, Los Angeles, and his research training at the Cardiovascular Institute at the University of California, San Francisco.

His research interests have centered on the area of myocardial protection and have led to the introduction of blood cardioplegia, which is currently used by 80 percent of surgeons in the United States, and increasingly in Europe and Asia, to intentionally stop the heart during adult and pediatric heart operations. He has also developed techniques to simply, safely, and rapidly deliver cardioplegia solutions to allow their distribution to all segments of the heart in order to ensure the solutions' protective effects.

Recent investigative studies by Dr. Buckberg's team have led to a new approach to treatment of acute myocardial infarction. Specialized techniques have been developed to salvage and restore early function to heart muscle in heart attack patients after time intervals previously thought to cause irreversible damage. Additional methods have been developed by his team to increase the safety of operating on patients in shock after acute heart attacks.

In 1998, Dr. Buckberg organized the RESTORE team, an international group of surgeons and cardiologists from the United States, Europe, Asia, and South America, to treat congestive heart failure by altering ventricular geometry, a surgical approach that could revolutionize thinking about cardiac structure and function. He has been appointed as a faculty associate at the California Institute of Technology to collaborate on helical heart basic studies that completely rethink how the heart is formed and functions.

Dr. Buckberg has published more than 400 papers and has been a sought-after speaker at numerous medical and scientific forums throughout the world. He is the recipient of the 2007 American Association for Thoracic Surgery Scientific Achievement Award, recognizing him for his seminal contributions in the field of myocardial preservation and for explaining the anatomy and pathophysiology of heart failure.

Jean-Pierre G. Changeux

Doctor of Science

A pioneer in the field of modern neurobiology, Jean-Pierre G. Changeux is professor at the Pasteur Institute and at the Collège de France in Paris. He served as director of the Unit of Molecular Neurobiology at the Pasteur Institute from 1972 to 2006.

Professor Changeux received a doctorate in natural sciences in 1964 under the tutelage of Nobel laureate Jacques Monod of the Pasteur Institute and completed postdoctoral studies at the University of California, Berkeley, and the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons before returning to the Pasteur Institute.

As a graduate student, Professor Changeux began to conduct studies in receptors to explain the mode of communication among neurons in the brain. As his career progressed, he and his research team were the first to succeed in identifying and isolating a protein receptor as a neurotransmitter—the nicotinic receptor of acetylcholine—and understanding its function. Subsequently, they showed that other nicotinic receptors in certain areas of the brain are necessary for the transmission of impulses among neurons, making them indispensable for higher brain functions such as memory, learning processes, emotions, reward mechanisms, and consciousness.

Every current textbook in biological and pharmacological sciences includes his seminal work on the nicotinic receptor ion channel, and his innovative studies have provided a better understanding of the nature of nicotine addiction, epilepsy, schizophrenia, Alzheimer's disease, and neuromuscular diseases.

Professor Changeux has written or co-written several books on neuroscience for general audiences, including Neuronal Man; Conversations on Mind, Matter and Mathematics; What Makes Us Think: A Neuroscientist and a Philosopher Argue About Ethics, Human Nature and the Brain; and The Physiology of Truth: Neuroscience and Human Knowledge.

He is a member of the U.S. National Academy of Sciences and the Paris Académie des Sciences and is the recipient of numerous honors, including the Richard Lounsbery Prize, the Wolf Prize, the Balzan Prize, the American Philosophical Society's Karl Spencer Lashley Award in Neuroscience, the National Academy of Science's Award in Neuroscience, and the Lewis Thomas Prize for Writing about Science.

Gilberto Gil Moreira

Doctor of Music

Gilberto Gil Moreira, a Grammy award-winning world musician, was named Brazil's Minister of Culture in 2002.

Born in Salvador de Bahia, Brazil, he began playing accordion at an early age, forming his first group, Os Desafinados, at the age of 18. He was greatly influenced by the explosion of Bossa Nova in the 1960s, taking up the guitar, composing in a more personal style, and recording his first songs in 1962. During this time, he was also studying at the University of Bahia, earning his bachelor's degree in business administration in 1964.

Mr. Gil began a partnership with fellow musician Caetano Veloso, and in 1968 founded Tropicalismo, an artistic movement that greatly contributed to the internationalization of Brazilian music and culture. He has long served as a role model for Afro-Brazilians and Brazilians in general. As Minister of Culture, he has developed pioneering cultural programs that have allocated funds, including digital technology, to low-income communities to promote their culture and art. He has produced more than 40 recordings and has received a number of awards for his music, including the Grammy Award for Best World Music Album in 1998 and 2001 and the Best Contemporary World Music Album in 2005. He received the Latin Grammy Award in 2001, 2002, and 2003.

Through his music and his activism, Mr. Gil denounced prejudice and racism in Brazil, calling for a fairer and more egalitarian society. In 1989, he founded Onda Azul (Blue Wave), a foundation that has as its main objective the promotion of the sustained use and preservation of Brazilian waters and their related ecosystems. His long involvement in Brazilian social, environmental, and cultural affairs culminated with his appointment as Minister of Culture.

As Minister of Culture, he has taken a proactive approach in validating humanitarian, social, and ecological endeavors as an integral part of Brazilian society and its cultural and economic development. He works to empower individuals and groups, particularly those in deprived rural and urban areas, previously excluded from politics.

Mr. Gil has been recognized with several international awards, including UNESCO's Artist for Peace in 1999 and the French government's Knight of the Order of Arts and Letters in 2003. In 2005 he received the title of Grand Officier de l'Ordre National de la Légion d'Honneur, the highest distinction ever granted to someone by the French government.

Karen A. Holbrook

Doctor of Education

Karen A. Holbrook became the 13th president of The Ohio State University on October 1, 2002. She earned B.S. and M.S. degrees in zoology at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and a Ph.D. in biological structure from the University of Washington, School of Medicine, where she pursued postdoctoral training in the Department of Medicine, Division of Dermatology.

Dr. Holbrook came to Columbus from The University of Georgia, where she served as senior vice president for academic affairs and provost, as well as professor of cell biology and adjunct professor of anatomy and cell biology and medicine at the Medical College of Georgia. Before that, she served at the University of Florida-Gainesville as vice president for research and dean of the Graduate School, as well as professor of anatomy and cell biology and medicine.

Under Dr. Holbrook's direction, Ohio

State has made substantial and measurable progress toward fulfilling the goals of its Academic Plan and to realizing its vision as a top-ranked research and teaching university of this nation. Since taking office, she has made cutting-edge research a priority and an integral part of the educational process at all levels of the university. As a result, Ohio State's sponsored research funding has topped $652 million, an all-time high. Ohio State now ranks 8th among public universities in research expenditures.

As a champion of expanding the undergraduate research experience, Dr. Holbrook has led the effort to offer freshmen seminars and provide research opportunities for undergraduates in every college of the university and has overseen the establishment of the Office of Undergraduate Research and the doubling of participation in the prestigious Denman Undergraduate Research Forum.

Throughout her career, Dr. Holbrook has held leadership roles and has actively participated in professional and honorary societies, including the American Association for the Advancement of Science, where she is a Fellow; the American Association of Universities; and the Association of American Medical Colleges. She currently is a member of the advisory board to the director of the National Institute of Health and serves on the board of directors of several national higher education organizations.

Her honors and awards include the Distinguished Contribution to Research Administration Award from the Society of Research Administrators International; the Women in Higher Education Award, National Panhellenic Conference Foundation, Inc.; 2006 YWCA Women of Achievement Award; and the President's Award for Leadership in Technology Development from TechColumbus, among others.

RECIPIENTS OF HONORS

James F. Patterson

Distinguished Service Award

James F. Patterson is the fifth generation of his family to farm in Geauga County. The 116-acre Patterson Fruit Farm in Chesterland includes 45 acres of apple orchards and 12 acres of strawberries. He was a Geauga County commissioner from 1969 to 1982 and president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation from 1985 to 1989.

Mr. Patterson was named to The Ohio State University Board of Trustees by Governor George Voinovich in 1994, serving as the board's chair from 2002 to 2003. During his tenure on the board, he served on the two Presidential Search Committees that brought Presidents William Kirwan and Karen Holbrook to Ohio State. As chair of the second committee, he worked diligently to include all members and interested parties in the process. He brought the same inclusive skills and work ethic to his chairing of the Board of Trustees. He remains involved in higher education policymaking through his current service on the Ohio Board of Regents.

A 1964 graduate of Ohio State's then College of Agriculture (now Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences) with a Bachelor of Science in horticulture, Mr. Patterson has remained actively involved with the college, its alumni association, and its extension and research programs. He has helped facilitate several generous gifts to the college that established the C. William Swank Endowed Chair, the Farm Income Enhancement Endowed Chair, and the Nationwide-Ohio Farm Bureau 4-H Center. He has served as chair of the Ohio State Alumni Advisory Committee and on the support councils of the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center and OSU Extension. He continues to serve as a spokesperson for the changing role of a premier land-grant university that serves not only those in agriculture, but all Ohio citizens.

At the conclusion of his Ohio State trusteeship, his friends and colleagues honored him by establishing the James F. Patterson Endowment for an Annual Land-Grant Lectureship in 2003. That same year, he received The Ohio State University College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences Alumni Meritorious Service Award. He is also the recipient of the Alpha Gamma Rho Brother of the Century Award, the Celebration of Youth Ohio 4-H Award, the Ohio Farm Bureau Distinguished Service Award, and The Ohio State University Alumni Association Mershon Award.

Paul E. Young, Jr.

Distinguished Service Award

Paul E. Young, Jr. is professor emeritus of architecture at The Ohio State University Knowlton School of Architecture and a registered architect. He continues to serve as a consultant to Ohio State's Office of Facility Planning and Development.

Professor Young holds a five-year Bachelor of Architecture from Ohio State and a Master of Architecture from the University of Illinois. After service in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and teaching stints at the University of Illinois and Ohio University, he joined Ohio State's architecture faculty in 1969, serving as department chair from 1970 to 1978.

His unrivaled knowledge of the history of Ohio State's physical campus and his commitment to the role the campus plays in accomplishing the academic mission of the university and enhancing the quality of life in the academic community led to his serving as faculty coordinator for the revision of the campus Master Plan in 1995. That plan continues to guide planning decisions, affecting the architectural quality of more than 40 buildings constructed on campus over the past 15 years. The renovation of the William Oxley Thompson Library, now underway, bears his imprint in its strong connection to the Oval and restoration of historic interior spaces.

During his tenure at the university, Professor Young served on numerous committees, advisory boards, and task forces, always putting the interests of the university and its academic mission foremost in decisions regarding the design and operations of the physical environment.

As president of The Ohio State University Faculty Club from 1994 to 1997, Professor Young worked to bring the club to fiscal health as well as physical integrity and attractiveness. He also served on the High Street Steering Committee that helped guide the development of the Gateway and fostered improved relationships between the campus and surrounding communities. He was instrumental in choosing the site for the new Fisher College of Business when it moved from the Oval.

As a specialist in architectural design and history, Professor Young played a leading role in developing a new course, "The Ohio State University: Its History and Its World," for which he continues to lecture on key developments in the design of the campus over its 130-year history.

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY CLASS GIFT PROGRAM

For more than a century, graduating seniors have joined together to bestow a Class Gift upon the university. This tradition began in 1891 when a group of students planted five elm trees on the Oval the evening before graduation.

Since then, Class Gifts have touched the lives of hundreds of thousands of Ohio State students, alumni, and friends. From the Orton Hall Chimes to “The Long Walk” on the Oval, Class Gifts have shaped our campus experience, helping to create the Ohio State we all know and cherish today.

Class Gifts are also shaping the Ohio State of tomorrow. The 2007 Class Gift is continuing this rich tradition. As the Class of 2007 collectively prepares to cross the stage as students and leave as graduates, they are leaving a legacy that will celebrate this special day and benefit future generations of Ohio State students for years to come.

They are leaving an indelible mark on the university—literally. Across campus, the new Ohio Union is being built. The 2007 Class Gift is a 16-foot university seal that will be embedded in the floor of the Great Hall in the new Ohio Union.

Continuing in the tradition of the first Ohio Union, the new Ohio Union will open in 2010 and serve as a hub for students to gather, participate in activities, and be part of a community. It will also be a place where alumni and friends can return to reminisce about their campus experience. The beautiful seal will serve as a focal point, reminding past, present, and future Buckeyes of the Class of 2007’s generosity.

As we continue to build on the past to build for the future, graduates who wish to make their 2007 Class Gift of $20.07 may do so online at studentcampaign.osu.edu.

The university congratulates the Class of 2007 and thanks them for making a difference at Ohio State!

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT HOLBROOK

Commencement represents a culmination and celebration of your accomplishments at The Ohio State University. It is the most solemn and yet the most joyous and exhilarating ceremony held at any university. It is a day for academia, family, and friends to gather and share with you their tears and laughter, their love and hope, and their tremendous pride for your many years of hard work and achievement. It is a day you will long remember.

Today, you join a family of more than half a million Ohio State graduates and step into a new world of rich and challenging opportunities. As graduates of The Ohio State University, you have good reason to feel a strong sense of pride and accomplishment—as well as excitement about a promising future. Working with your professors and the university community, you have built a well-rounded education and polished it with relevant experience. Upon this foundation, your education will continue to grow and help you create a lifetime of productivity, personal fulfillment, and civic responsibility.

Through time and change, you will surely remember your years at Ohio State as some of the happiest, most important, and most influential experiences of your life. And I am confident that your firm bonds to this great university will only grow stronger. Please accept my congratulations and personal best wishes on this very special day.

Karen A. Holbrook
President

CONGRATULATIONS AND WELCOME TO THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Congratulations on receiving your degree. You may not notice the difference, but today, along with hundreds of your colleagues, you have joined the ranks of Ohio State alumni. For you, one era has passed, and another is about to begin.

You are a member of the Buckeye family and partner in the enterprise, carrying the reputation of Ohio State through your activities and accomplishments. You exemplify the fruits of a good education: a critical mind, a discerning spirit, higher values, a sense of commitment, and the privilege of service.

You can assist the university in many ways. You can recruit new and highly qualified students. You can represent Ohio State well through personal and occupational achievements. You can participate financially through the Development Fund. And you can work in an advisory capacity with the university to improve it and its programs to better prepare today's students for tomorrow's citizenship.

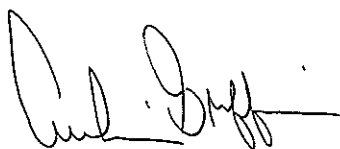

We extend to you a year's complimentary membership in the Alumni Association. Included is a year's subscription to the Ohio State Alumni Magazine, which will keep you informed of the university's continuing pursuit of excellence and help you keep in touch with your friends and classmates.

To you, your family, friends, and all those who helped you reach this day go our best wishes. You are joining a great family of Ohio State alumni working together to make a difference around the world.

Cordially,

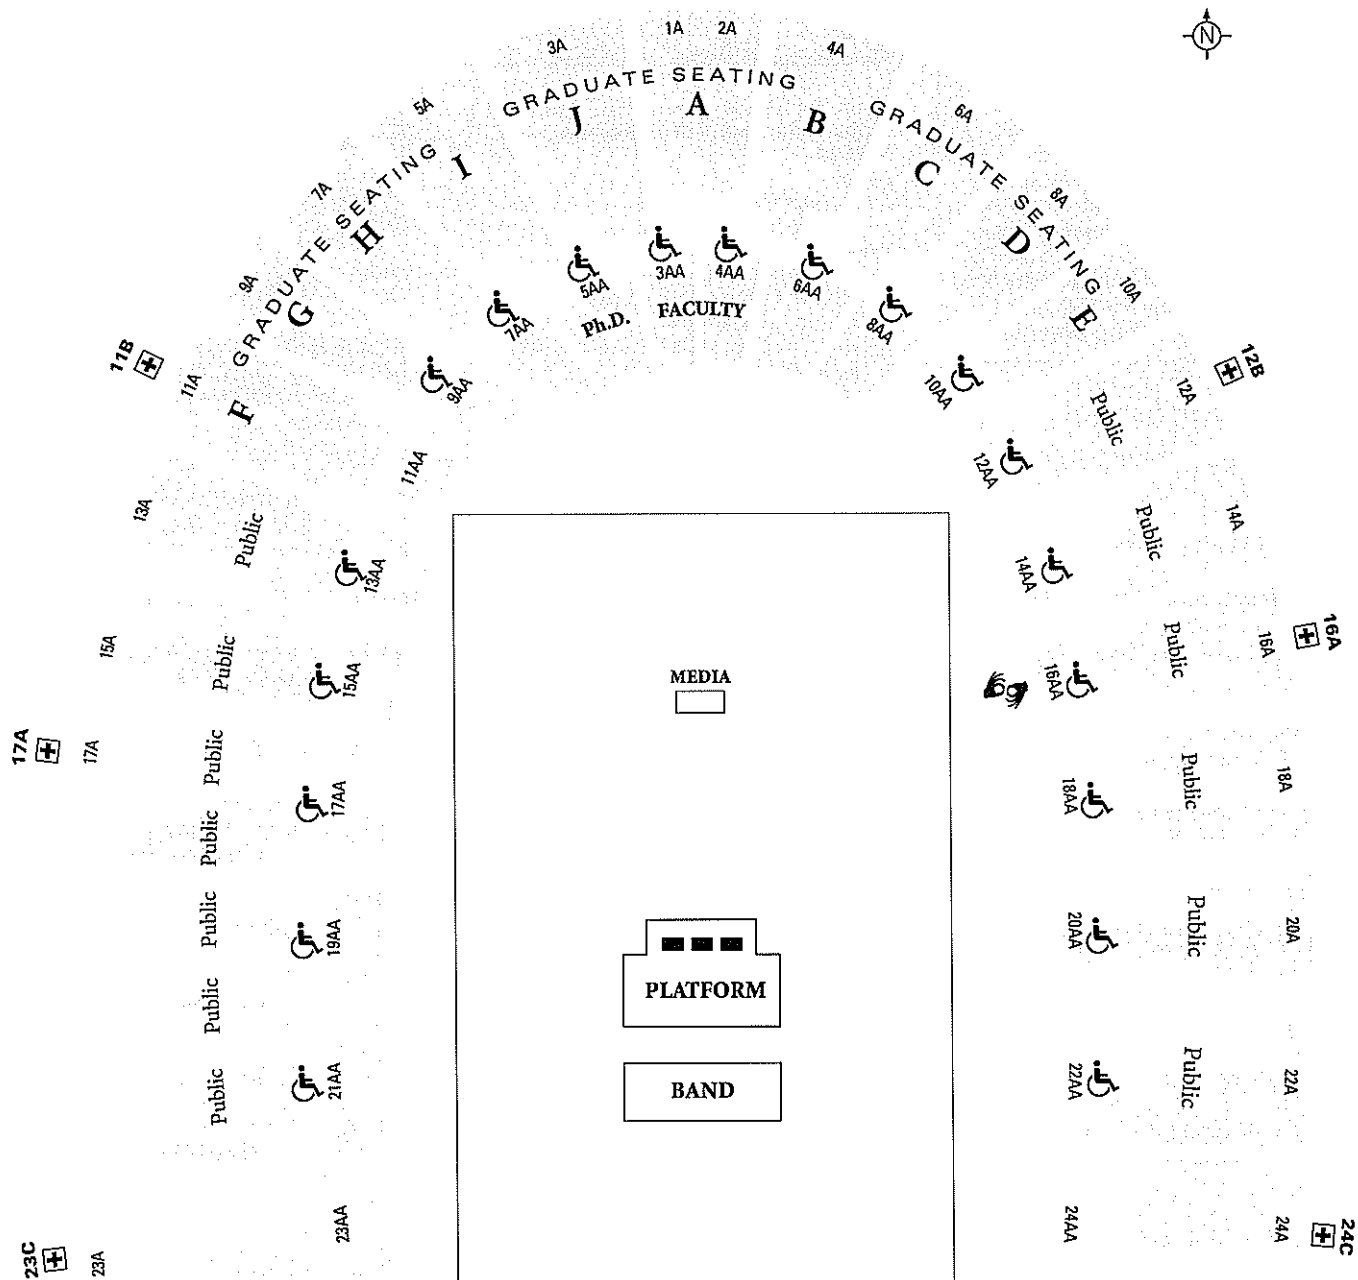

William J. Lhota
Chair, Board of Directors

This program is not an official graduation list.

This printed program lists students who were eligible to graduate for Spring Quarter 2007, as of 5:00 p.m., June 1, 2007, pending the outcome of final examinations and final grades. Therefore, it should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of the University Registrar, 320 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus Ohio 43210.

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—

a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral and master's degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the university.

The Gown

Bachelor: The bachelor gown is black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master: The master gown is black, long or short sleeves, with an arc-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor: The Ohio State University Doctor of Philosophy gown is scarlet with gray velvet panels on the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Other doctor gowns are black with velvet panels and bars, the color of which is distinctive of the field of study.

Honors Emblem

The Ohio State University honors emblem is a scarlet and gray tasseled braid worn over the gown. Students eligible for this curricular honor are those graduating summa cum laude, magna cum laude, cum laude, with distinction, and with honors.

The Hood

Bachelor: Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master: Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.

Doctor: Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study.

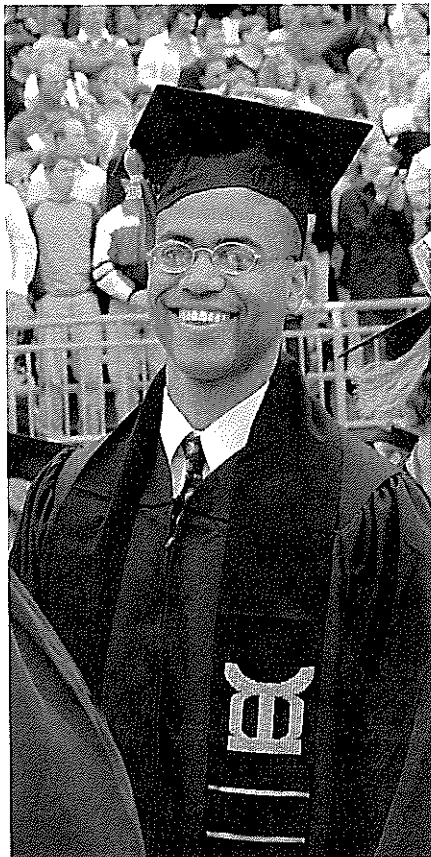

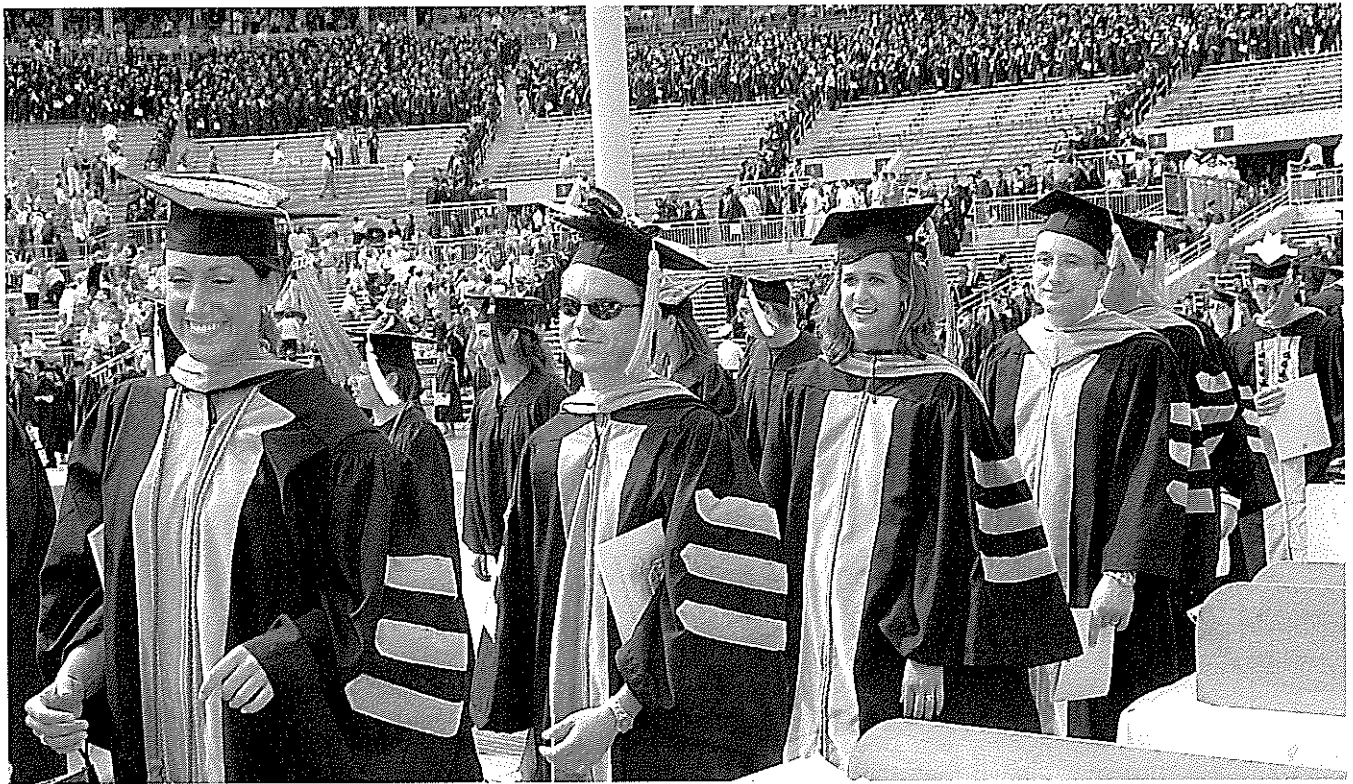

Cap and Tassel

Candidates for degrees at The Ohio State University wear the black mortarboard with a tassel whose color is distinctive of the degree being received. The tassel colors are as follows:

Graduate School (Ph.D.)	Gray
(Master's)	Black
Colleges of the Arts and Sciences	White
College of the Arts (B.A., B.S.I.D.)	White
(Others)	Brown
School of Music (B.A.)	White
(Others)	Pink
College of Biological Sciences	White
College of Humanities	White
College of Mathematical and Physical Sciences	White
College of Social and Behavioral Sciences	White
School of Communication (B.A.)	White
(B.A. Journalism)	Crimson
Fisher College of Business	Drab
College of Dentistry	Lilac
College of Education and Human Ecology Education	Light Blue
Human Ecology	Maroon
College of Engineering	Orange
Austin E. Knowlton School of Architecture	Blue-Violet
College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences	Maize
School of Environment and Natural Resources	Blue-Green
Moritz College of Law	Purple
College of Medicine	Green
School of Allied Medical Professions	Green
College of Nursing	Apricot
College of Optometry	Seafoam Green
College of Pharmacy	Olive Green
College of Public Health	Salmon
College of Social Work	Citron
College of Veterinary Medicine	Gray

The gold tassel is worn frequently by those holding the doctoral degree and by college and university administrative officers.

* Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.

Photography

As a courtesy to those persons receiving degrees today, please remain seated in the stands until the graduates have received their diplomas and moved past the stadium gates. Photographs may be taken from the stands at any time during the ceremony. However, only press photographers are permitted on the field.

A professional photographer will take a photograph of each graduate as the diploma is awarded. A free color print of the photograph will be mailed to the graduate's address within one month after graduation. You may purchase additional photos, but you are not obligated to do so.

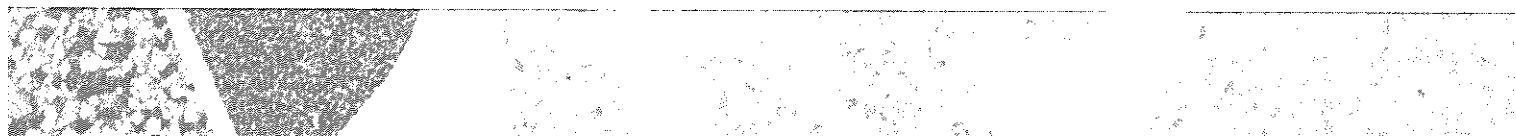

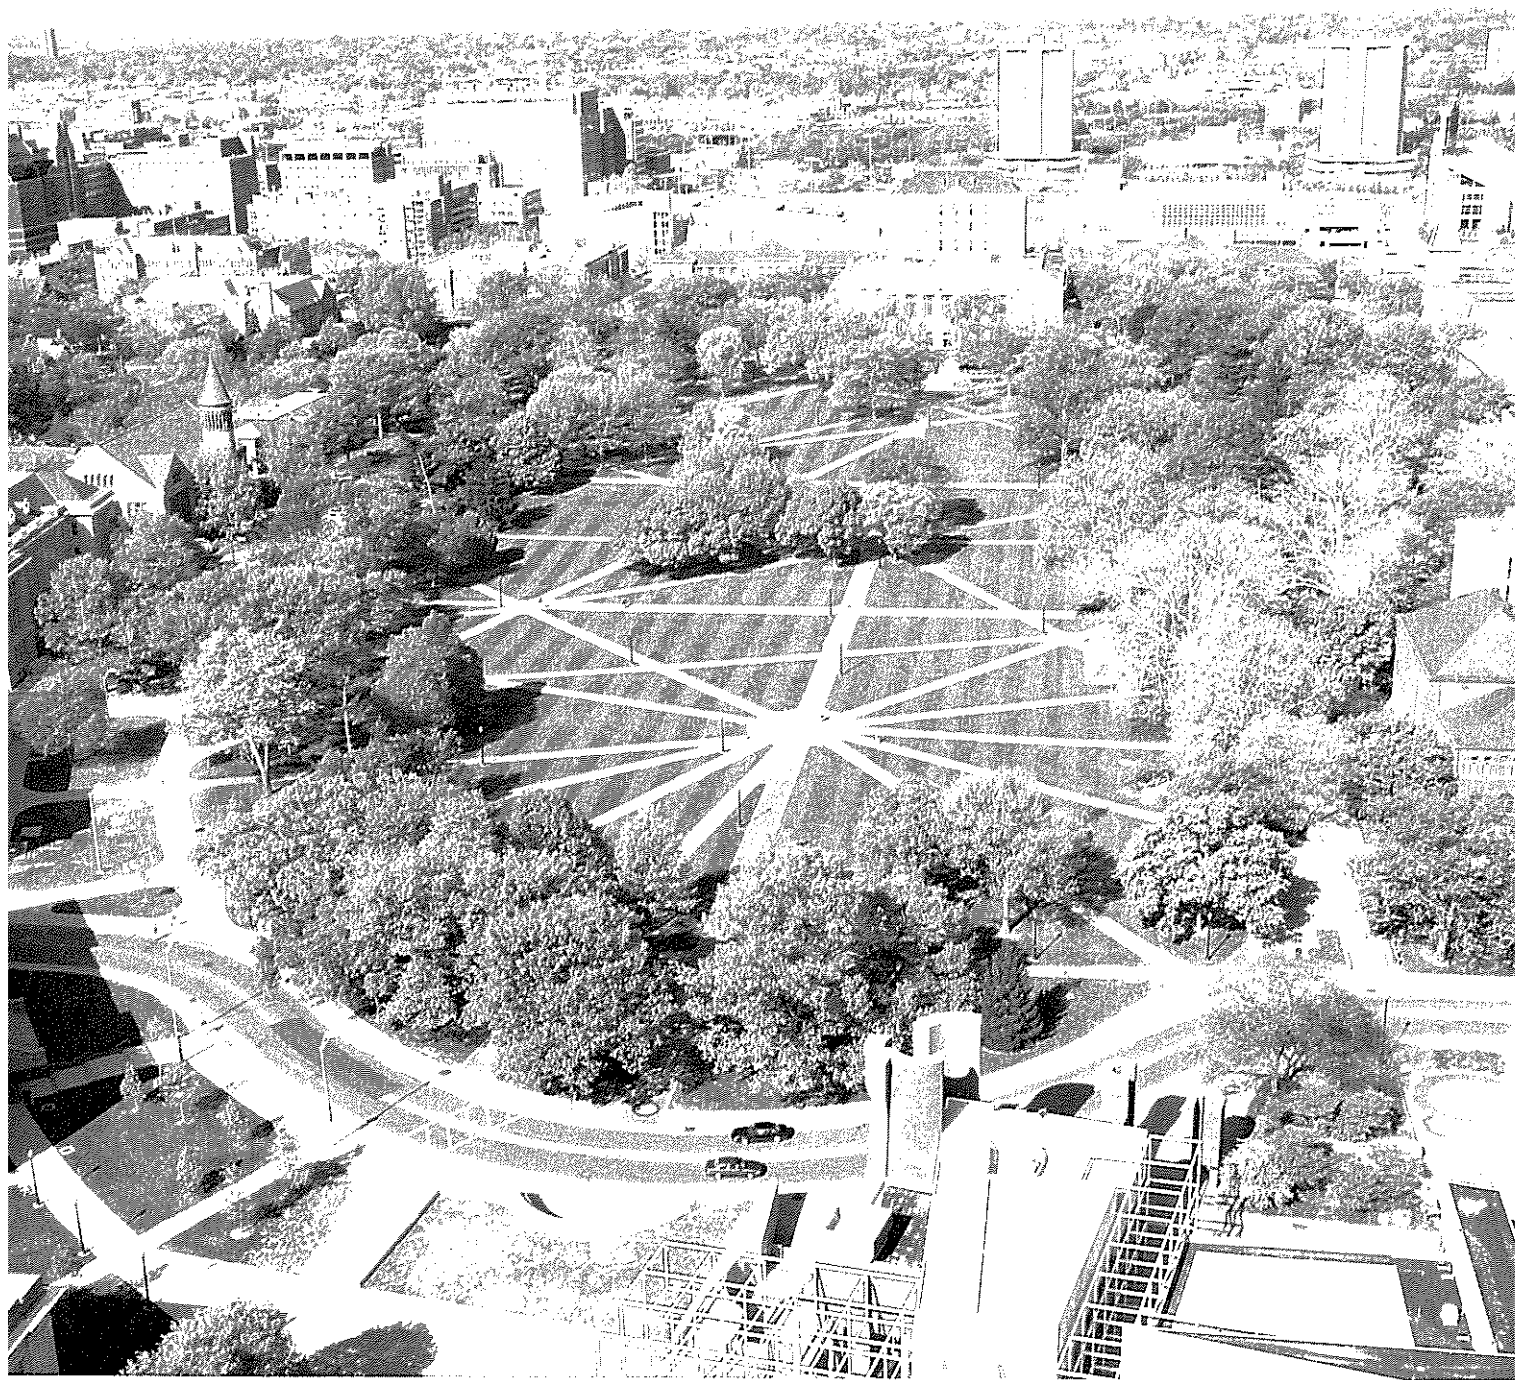

Complimentary Programs

A limited number of programs are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Requests should be sent to the Office of Commencement and Special Events, 1060 Blankenship Hall, 901 Woody Hayes Drive, Columbus, OH 43210-4160.
