Andrew J. Broekema Distinguished Service Award

Andrew J. Broekema is dean emeritus of Ohio State's College of the Arts. During his 12 years as dean, he brought the college into the national and international limelight.

He attended Calvin College in Grand Rapids, Michigan, and received his bachelor's and master's degrees in music from the University of Michigan. He began his academic career as an instructor and assistant professor of music at the University of Texas where he received his Ph.D. in 1962. He served as assistant director of Ohio State's School of Music and as assistant professor of music history. His other academic posts include the chairmanships of the Department of Music at Eastern Kentucky University and the Department of Music at Arizona State University. He returned to Ohio State in 1976 as dean of the College of the Arts and professor of music, serving in that capacity until his retirement in 1988. He continues to serve the university through the College of the Arts' Dean's Emeritus Advisory Council.

Among his achievements are the development of computer graphics in the Advanced Computing Center for the Arts and Design. He was instrumental in obtaining approval to proceed with an architecture competition and subsequent fund-raising plan to build a visual arts center on campus, culminating in the completion of the Wexner Center for the Arts.

During his tenure as dean, he maintained close ties to the local arts community, serving on the boards of Opera/Columbus, the Columbus Symphony Orchestra, the Columbus Museum of Art, the Columbus College of Art and Design, and the Greater Columbus Arts Council of which he was president in 1983-84. He was also treasurer of the Ohio Alliance for the Arts in Education.

Nationally, he has held the two highest posts in the arts in higher education: president of the International Council of Fine Arts Deans and chairman of the Commission on the Arts, National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges.

It is with deep gratitude that Ohio State recognizes the breadth and scope of his continuing contributions to the university and to the greater arts community.

Dorothy M. Davis Distinguished Service Award

Dorothy M. Davis is owner and chairman of Davis Enterprises, which develops and operates shopping centers, apartment buildings, and other real estate holdings throughout Central Ohio.

As one of Ohio State's most generous benefactors and strongest advocates, she is an original member of the Ohio State University Foundation Board and a member of the Hospitals Service Board.

Mrs. Davis and her late husband, Ohio State alumnus William H. Davis, shared a commitment to the university, working to enhance the quality of several Ohio State programs, most notably medicine and business. In 1976, they created the William H. Davis professorship in the American free enterprise system, now an endowed chair in the College of Business. The Davis Chair enables business students to learn from a renowned scholar in the field about the history of free enterprise and its effect on building this nation.

The Davises began supporting medical research at Ohio State with the creation of the William H. Davis Endowment for Basic Medical Research. Upon Mr. Davis's death in 1984, Mrs. Davis created a further endowment for basic medical research and established the Dorothy M. Davis Chair in Cancer Research which was one of the first chairs established in the Arthur G. James Cancer Hospital and Research Institute.

She has continued her leadership and support in health-related areas. In 1986, the university recognized her concern by naming a new facility the William H. Davis Medical Research Center, housing clinical and research services for treatment of diseases related to aging and arthritis.

A former aviator and teacher of celestial navigation, she attended Miami University in Florida. Long active in the community in both Columbus and Florida, she is on the board of the Capital Area Humane Society and is active with the Franklin County chapter of the American Red Cross, Royal Dames Cancer Research, and the Gold Circle of Nova University in Fort Lauderdale. She remains involved with Big Brothers/Big Sisters, an organization started in Columbus by her late husband.

Ohio State gratefully recognizes the dedication and efforts of this valued friend of the university.

He became president and chief executive officer of BANC ONE CORPORATION (formerly First Banc Group of Ohio, Inc.) in 1967 and vice chairman and chief executive officer in 1980.

Under his leadership, Bank One introduced automatic teller machines and computer-based home banking, among other innovations, and grew to become one of the nation's leading financial institutions.

He has been actively involved with Ohio State for nearly three decades. A founding member of The Ohio State University Foundation Board and the Arthur G. James Cancer Foundation Board, he has been instrumental in several major undertakings at the university, including the successful completion of the five-year University Campaign and the construction of the James Cancer Hospital and Research Institute. He currently represents the Foundation Board on the University Trustees Investment Committee and is a member of the College of Business Dean's Advisory Council.

During the campaign, he served on the Columbus Regional Campaign Committee and the National Campaign Committee and helped lead the Columbus region to a total of $178 million in gifts and pledges to the university. He and his wife, Jeanne, as well as Bank One, have been supportive of a wide range of university activities and programs, including the Colleges of Business and Law, the Historic Costume Collection, Athletics, and WOSU.

His long career at Ohio State began after his graduation from the university with a B.S. degree in agriculture in 1941. He worked as a county agent with Ohio State University Extension before serving as a naval officer during World War II. He returned to the university in 1946 as assistant professor in Agricultural Extension and assistant state 4-H leader. He also earned a master of science degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1949. Before his appointment to the central university administration in 1957, he served as junior dean, assistant dean, and secretary of the College of Agriculture. He became a full professor in 1959.

His other posts at Ohio State have included secretary of the board of trustees; administrative assistant to the president (1957-60); vice president and secretary to the university (1960-64); the university's first vice president for educational services (1964-68); and vice president for student affairs (1968-70).

Among his many noteworthy accomplishments are the significant development of the regional campuses, the development of an exemplary orientation program for new students and their parents, and the dramatic rise in the number of academically gifted students attending the university.

In honor of his achievements, the board of trustees named a west campus building John T. Mount Hall. In addition, three university endowments have been established by alumni, colleagues, and family. He is a member of the Ohio 4-H and the Ohio State Army ROTC Halls of Fame. In 1989, he received the Ralph Davenport Mershon Award for exceptional service to Ohio State.

Continuing a long tradition of public service, he is a member of the board of directors of the Central Ohio chapter of the American Red Cross, the Columbus International Visitors Council, the Columbus Council on World Affairs, and the Jesse Owens Foundation.

It is with great pride and gratitude that Ohio State honors the steadfast support of this loyal friend.

This printed program, therefore, should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of The University Registrar, 202 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43210.

The Academic Costume

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In the light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the University.

The Gown

Bachelor. Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master. Black, long or short sleeves with a re-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor. Black with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

The Hood

Bachelor. Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master. Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Doctor. Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

* Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study:

Dentistry	Lilac
Law	Purple
Medicine	Green
Musical Arts	Pink
Optometry	Sea-foam Green
Pharmacy	Olive Green
Philosophy	Dark Blue
Veterinary Medicine	Gray

Cap and Tassel

Candidates for degrees at The Ohio State University wear the black mortarboard with a tassel whose color is distinctive of the degree being received. The tassel colors are as follows:

Graduate School	Black
Colleges of the Arts and Sciences
College of the Arts (B.A., B.S.I.D.)	White
(Others)	Brown
School of Music (B.A.)	White
(Others)	Pink
