Alma Mater—Carmen Ohio

Graduates and guests led by Laura M.R. Brengartner

*Oh! Come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.*

Dr. Jennings looks forward to personally congratulating you and your

Roger D. Blackwell

Roger D. Blackwell is a professor of marketing and logistics at The Ohio State University. He is also president of Roger Blackwell Associates, Inc., a Columbus-based consulting firm through which he works with many of America's most successful companies.

Professor Blackwell, who received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Missouri and his Ph.D. from Northwestern University, is a pioneer in the study of consumer behavior. He is coauthor of one of the leading books in this field, Consumer Behavior, now in its 9th edition, which is used by business schools throughout North America, Europe, Asia, and Africa and was recently translated into Russian and Portuguese. He has also written 26 other books on marketing strategy, research, and global marketing. His most recent book, Customers Rule! Why the E-Commerce Honeymoon Is Over and Where Winning Businesses Go from Here, co-written with his wife, Kristina, was Amazon.com's top selling business book in summer 2001.

The recipient of Ohio State's Alumni Distinguished Teaching Award, Professor Blackwell has been on the university's faculty for more than 30 years, and his depth of knowledge and enthusiasm for teaching still make him a favorite among students. Last year, Professor Blackwell taught the first distance learning business course offered by Ohio State's Fisher College of Business to the university's branch campuses.

Along with his wife, Professor Blackwell has made a large financial gift to the Fisher College. In recognition of his generosity, the recently opened executive residence and hotel at the Fisher College is named The Roger D. Blackwell Inn.

Professor Blackwell has been cited by The New York Times as one of the top speakers on the lecture circuit and heralded as a marketing and retail "guru" with the ability to mesmerize his audiences. Having lectured around the world, he is often quoted in publications such as Business Week, USA Today, Forbes, and The Wall Street Journal and has appeared on numerous television programs including CBS This Morning. He was named Outstanding Marketing Educator in America by Sales and Marketing Executives International and Marketer of the Year by the American Marketing Association.

Ohio State is proud to have one of its own distinguished scholars to address today's graduates.

RECIPIENTS OF HONORS

Harold A. McMaster

Doctor of Science

Harold A. McMaster is the founder or co-founder of four privately held manufacturing companies and the holder of more than 100 patents, primarily for technology in glass manufacturing and solar energy. His current project is McMaster Motor in Toledo, which he founded to research and develop a rotary engine powered by solar fuel.

After receiving his bachelor and master's degrees in physics from The Ohio State University, Mr. McMaster joined Toledo-based Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass as a research physicist. There he became an expert on the tempering of glass, a process that adds tensile strength to glass by compressing it. In 1948, he founded his own company, Permaglass, Inc., which has since merged with Guardian Industries. From 1971 to 1987, he served as co-founder and chair of Glasstech, Inc., in Perrysburg, Ohio, gaining recognition as the world's authority on glass tempering. After selling the company, he co-founded Solar Cells Inc. (now First Solar LLC) in Toledo to focus on developing a high-volume, low-cost solar module manufacturing process. He served as the company's chair until 1999 when he sold his controlling interest.

Mr. McMaster and his wife, Helen Clark McMaster, established a foundation in 1988 to help support a variety of philanthropic interests, including higher education, medicine, and the arts. Mr. McMaster serves as a trustee at Defiance College and as a director of the Bowling Green State University Foundation and was a former director of the University of Toledo Foundation. He is a member of the Scientific Advisory Board for the Bowling Green State University Center for Photochemical Sciences.

Mr. McMaster's ingenuity and entrepreneurial expertise have been recognized with numerous awards, including The Ohio State University Department of Physics Distinguished Alumni Award in 2001, the Ohio Department of Development Entrepreneur of the Year in 1998, the National Glass Industry's Phoenix Award in 1993, and induction into the Engineering and Science Hall of Fame in Dayton and the Ohio Science and Technology Hall of Fame.

André Wambersie

Doctor of Science

André Wambersie is professor emeritus at the medical faculty of the Catholic University of Louvain in Brussels, Belgium, and guest professor at the University of Vienna in Austria. In addition, he has served as a visiting professor at the Arthur G. James Cancer Hospital and Richard D. Solove Research Institute at The Ohio State University since 1995.

Internationally renowned for his pioneering work in radiation oncology, Dr. Wambersie received his medical degree from the Catholic University of Louvain in 1957 and trained in radiation oncology at the Institut Gustave-Roussy in Paris. In 1964, he joined the Catholic University's medical faculty, becoming a full professor in 1986. He also served as chair of the radiation therapy department at the University Hospital St. Luc in Brussels, where he built an acclaimed neutron therapy program. He has visited Ohio State on a regular basis since 1987 to teach medical residents.

His expertise in a wide variety of disciplines, including radiobiology, radiation oncology, physics, epidemiology, and medicine, has long placed him in the forefront of research into the healing properties of radiation. He is chair of the main commission of the International Commission on Radiation Units and Measurements, coordinator of the European Society for Therapeutic Radiology and Oncology's European Network for LIGHT-ion Therapy (ENLIGHT) program, and chair of the International Advisory Board of the Med-AUSTRON Project. He is a member of numerous scientific organizations, including the New York Academy of Sciences, the Swiss Society of Radiology, the Radiation Research Society, the International Atomic Energy Agency, and the International Society for Neutron Capture Therapy. He has also served on the editorial boards of a number of scientific journals.

Among Dr. Wambersie's many honors are the 1990 Roentgen Award, the 1994 John R. Cameron Lecture at the University of Wisconsin, and honorary membership in the Austrian Society for Radiation Oncology and the Austrian Hadron Therapy Group.

George W. Hairston

Distinguished Service Award

George W. Hairston is managing partner of the Columbus branch of Baker & Hostetler, one of the nation's largest law firms. He maintains an active corporate and litigation practice with an emphasis on health care, insurance, and corporate law, and he is nationally recognized for his work in motor vehicle franchise litigation.

After receiving his B.B.A. degree from Southern Methodist University in 1965, Mr. Hairston earned his J.D. degree cum laude from what is now The Ohio State University Michael E. Moritz College of Law in 1968. He has remained actively involved with his professional alma mater through the years, serving on the executive committee of the college's Affirm Thy Friendship fund-raising campaign, as a member of the college's National Alumni Council, and as chair of its development subcommittee. He has generously shared his time and resources with numerous university-wide programs in addition.

As a leader in the Columbus legal community, Mr. Hairston played a key role in the Columbus Bar Association's creation of a Minority Clerkship Program, which placed minority Ohio State law students in summer clerkships with the city's largest law firms. The successful program became a model for similar programs nationwide. Mr. Hairston's leadership was also instrumental in the establishment of Baker & Hostetler's Paul D. White Scholarship for minority law students. The scholarship, which includes a paid summer associate clerkship and cash award, is bringing talented Ohio State law graduates into the firm in record numbers.

Mr. Hairston is a member of the American, Ohio, and Columbus Bar Associations and has taken an active role in his community through past service on the boards of the Columbus Museum of Art and the Columbus Symphony Orchestra and current service as a trustee of Recreation Unlimited.

Curtis J. Moody

Distinguished Service Award

Curtis J. Moody is president and CEO of Moody/Nolan Ltd., Inc., a Columbus-based architectural and engineering firm with offices in Cincinnati and Nashville. He is a registered architect in 25 states.

Mr. Moody received his B.S. degree in architecture in 1973 from what is now the Austin E. Knowlton School of Architecture at The Ohio State University. After apprenticing for several Columbus design firms, he formed his own firm in 1982, joining with engineer Howard Nolan two years later. Serving as principal-in-charge for more than $1 billion in construction, Mr. Moody has led the firm to becoming the largest minority-owned architectural firm in the nation.

Mr. Moody's commitment to excellence in the design of higher education facilities is clearly evident on Ohio State's campus. He has served as principal architect for the Jerome Schottenstein Center, the Jesse Owens Memorial Stadium, the Drees Laboratory addition, the Library Book Depository, and the Marion Campus Library and Classroom Building. He is currently working on the Larkins Hall Student Recreation Center replacement project.

He continues as a strong supporter of his alma mater, helping to sponsor and mentor architecture students. In 1989 Mr. Moody used his design fees for Ohio State's Frank W. Hale Jr. Black Cultural Center to establish an endowed scholarship for an outstanding minority student enrolled in architecture. He has served on the Knowlton School's Alumni Board of Governors, the Athletic Council, and the National Major Gift Committee for Columbus.

His many other projects in Columbus include The Martin Luther King Jr. Complex for Cultural & Performing Arts, the Mall at Tuttle Crossing, the Smith Brothers Hardware renovation, and expansion of facilities at Port Columbus International Airport. In addition, he has worked as principal or associate architect on numerous projects for universities and communities throughout Ohio and the nation.

Mr. Moody's expertise has been recognized on the local and national levels with numerous design awards from the Columbus and Ohio chapters of the American Institute of Architects (AIA) and the National Organization of Minority Architects. In 1997, he received one of the profession's highest honors by being named to the College of Fellows of the national AIA. He is also the recipient of the AIA's 1992 Whitney M. Young Jr. Award to an outstanding minority architect.

A MESSAGE FROM INTERIM PRESIDENT JENNINGS

Since returning as interim president of The Ohio State University July 1, I have looked forward to August 30 as an opportunity to once again—and for the final time—serve as president at the most important event we hold at this great university. Of all the special experiences that come with the job of president of The Ohio State University, this has always been my favorite, and this commencement will certainly be a highlight of my term as interim president, just as it will be a memorable culmination and celebration of your years at Ohio State.

Commencement combines the satisfaction of reaching a significant milestone with the excitement and anticipation of stepping into a new world of opportunities. It is a time for recognition and festivity. It is a day for academia, family, and friends to gather for a joyous, exhilarating ceremony as you join a family of more than half a million Ohio State graduates.

Artist Vincent van Gogh once said, “Great things are not done by impulse, but by a series of small things brought together.” You have successfully completed a series of dozens of classes, fulfilled hundreds of assignments, and learned from many inspiring professors and fellow students. Piece by piece, you have built friendships as well as knowledge. All these “small things” have now come together, and today we join you in celebrating the truly great education that you have achieved.

As graduates of The Ohio State University, you have good reason to feel a strong sense of pride and accomplishment—as well as excitement about a promising future. Your professors and this university have prepared you well for what we hope will be a lifetime of productivity, personal fulfillment, and civic responsibility.

I am confident that the coming years will expand your education and enrich your attachment to Ohio State. Through time and change, you will remember your years at Ohio State as some of the most important and most influential experiences of your life. Fellow Buckeyes, please accept my congratulations and personal best wishes on this very special day.

Edward H. Jennings
Interim President

CONGRATULATIONS AND WELCOME TO THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Congratulations on receiving your degree. You may not notice the difference, but today, along with hundreds of your colleagues, you have joined the ranks of Ohio State alumni. For you, one era has passed, and another is about to begin.

You are a member of the Buckeye family and partner in the enterprise, carrying the reputation of Ohio State through your activities and accomplishments. You exemplify the fruits of a good education: a critical mind, a discerning spirit, higher values, a sense of commitment, and the privilege of service.

You can assist the university in many ways. You can recruit new and highly qualified students. You can represent Ohio State well through personal and occupational achievements. You can participate financially through the Development Fund. And you can work in an advisory capacity with the university to improve it and its programs to better prepare today's students for tomorrow's citizenship.

We extend to you a year's complimentary membership in the Alumni Association. Included is a year's subscription to the Ohio State Alumni Magazine, which will keep you informed of the university's continuing pursuit of excellence and help you keep in touch with your friends and classmates.

To you, your family, friends, and all those who helped you reach this day go our best wishes. You are joining a great family of Ohio State alumni working together to make a difference around the world.

Cordially,

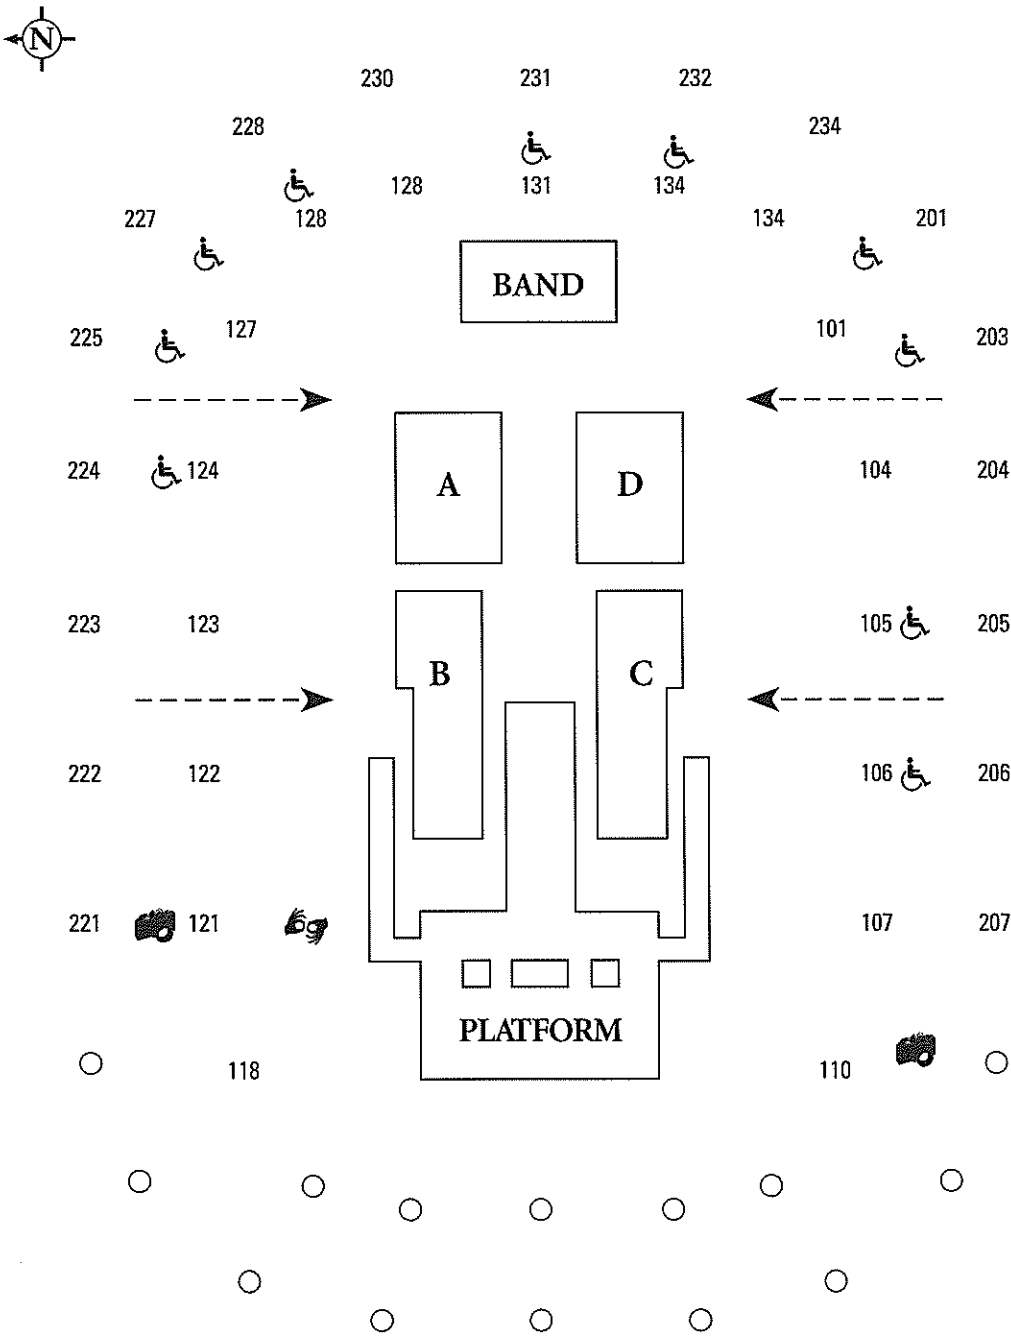

Dan D. Sandman

This printed program, therefore, should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of The University Registrar, 320 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43210.

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral and master's degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the university.

The Gown

Bachelor: Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master: Black, long or short sleeves with arc-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor: Black with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

Honors Emblem

The Ohio State University honors emblem is a scarlet and gray tasseled braid worn over the gown. Students eligible for this curricular honor are those graduating summa cum laude, magna cum laude, cum laude, with distinction, with honors in business, with honors in the liberal arts, and with honors in pharmacy.

The Hood

Bachelor: Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master: Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.

Doctor: Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study:

Dentistry	Lilac
Law	Purple
Medicine	Green
Musical Arts	Pink
Optometry	Seafoam Green
Pharmacy	Olive Green
Philosophy	Dark Blue
Veterinary Medicine	Gray

* Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.
